This policy applies to all eligible University System of Maryland (USM) Nonexempt and Exempt Staff employees on Regular Status. Under certain circumstances it is the policy of the USM to provide eligible employees up to a maximum of twelve (12) weeks of unpaid leave during a twelve (12) month period for certain family and certain serious health condition reasons. Additionally, it applies to covered active duty (military) duty injury or illness and qualifying exigencies for covered active duty and call-up.

II. TERMS AND DEFINITIONS

The term “child” shall also include someone who is the legal ward of the eligible employee or someone for whom the eligible employee has provided sufficient, notarized affidavit(s) and proof of financial dependence that he/she is standing in loco parentis.

16. Restoration - As used within the FMLA and used within this policy, restoration is an institutional guarantee that at the conclusion of the FML the employee will be returned either to the same position from which he/she took leave, or to an equivalent position within the same job classification.

17. Serious Health Condition - Is an illness, injury, impairment, or physical or mental condition of the employee or an immediate family member, or that involves either inpatient care as defined in 29 CFR §825.114 or continuing treatment by a health care provider. III. REASONS FOR LEAVE

A. Employees are entitled to take FML for the following reasons:

1. the birth of the employee's child,

2. the placement of a child with the employee for adoption or foster care,

3. the need to take care of the employee's child within a twelve (12) month period from birth or placement,

4. the need to take care of the employee's immediate family member who has a serious health condition,

5. the serious health condition of the employee, that makes the employee unable to perform any one of the essential functions of the employee’s job,

6. the need to take care of a covered servicemember’s serious injury or illness, and

7. exigencies arising out of covered military active duty and call-up to covered active duty of a military member (the employee’s spouse, son, daughter, or parent)

B. Additionally, requests for leave to take care of the employee's school-age child under the age of fourteen (14) during school vacations may be granted to the extent that the leave does not create a hardship with respect to the operational needs and work schedules of the applicable institutional unit.

IV. FAMILY AND MEDICAL LEAVE ENTITLEMENT

A. Employees are entitled to a maximum of twelve (12) workweeks (60 days) of FML within a twelve- (12-) month period. FML can be taken continuously or, under certain circumstances, on a reduced FML work schedule, or intermittently over the course of a twelve- (12- ) month period. FML entitlement shall not be carried over from a twelve- (12- ) month period to the subsequent twelve- (12- ) month period.

B. The actual FML entitlement shall be based on the employee's percentage of full time work for the twelve- (12-) month period immediately prior to the beginning date of the FML; and shall be integrated with the amount of other leave taken for FML-related reasons during the twelve- (12-) month period within which the FML is to begin.

C. Employees who regularly worked full-time (40 hours per week) are entitled to a maximum of twelve (12) workweeks (60 days/480 hours) of FML in a twelve- (12-) month period. Employees who worked part-time (less than 40 hours per week), on at least a 50% basis, are entitled to a prorated share of the twelve (12) week/sixty (60) day/480 hour maximum.

V. MILITARY FML ENTITLEMENT

A. Military Caregiver Leave - An employee who is the spouse, child, parent or next of kin of a covered servicemember may use up to 26 workweeks of unpaid leave in a single 12-month period to care for a covered servicemember with a serious injury or illness.

B. Exigency Leave - An employee with a spouse, child or parent who is a military member on Covered Active Duty or notified of an impending call or order to covered active duty status may use up to 12 workweeks of unpaid leave to address certain qualifying exigencies arising out of the fact that the employee’s spouse, child, or parent is on Covered Active Duty or notified of an impending call or order to covered active duty status. Qualifying exigencies may include attending certain military events, arranging for alternative childcare, addressing certain financial and legal arrangements, attending certain counseling sessions, attending post-deployment reintegration briefings, and providing parental care necessitated by the absence of the covered active duty of a military member whose parent is incapable of self-care.

VI. INTEGRATION OF OTHER LEAVE TAKEN WITH FAMILY AND MEDICAL LEAVE ENTITLEMENT

A. Actual FML entitlement shall be based on the employee's use of other leave during the twelve- (12- ) month period within which the FML begins. The employee's use of the following types of leave shall be deducted from the actual FML entitlement:

B. Any prior FML taken within the applicable year

C. Sick leave withdrawn from the USM Leave Reserve Fund within the applicable year

D. Accrued, Advanced and/or Extended sick leave used within the applicable year

E. Accident leave used within the applicable year
F. Any type of paid or unpaid leave for reasons related to family and medical circumstances taken within the applicable year.

VII. INTERMITTENT OR REDUCED LEAVE

A. In the case of a documented medical necessity, an employee shall be entitled to intermittent leave and/or a reduced schedule that reduces regular hours per workday or workweek for purposes of the employee's or the immediate family member's serious health condition. The employee shall make a reasonable effort to schedule intermittent leave or leave on a reduced schedule so as not to disrupt the operations of the institution's applicable unit.

B. Employees may be granted leave that reduces regular hours per workday or workweek for reasons of child birth, placement with the employee of a child for adoption or foster care, or care for a newborn child to the extent that the intermittent or reduced leave does not represent an undue hardship to the operations and work schedules of the applicable institutional unit.

C. The President or designee may temporarily reassign an employee on intermittent or reduced FML to an alternative position that better accommodates planned reduced work schedules or intermittent periods of leave.

VIII. SPOUSES EMPLOYED BY THE SAME USM INSTITUTION AND UNIT

A. If spouses work at the same USM institution or in the same institutional unit, each spouse shall be entitled to a separate, individual, maximum family and medical leave eligibility amount.

B. The amount of leave for which one spouse may be eligible, or the amount of leave used by one spouse shall not limit or enhance the leave amount or the leave usage of the other spouse.

C. Spouses shall be entitled to take leave simultaneously or in succession and in any portion of their respective individual maximum for reasons of a serious health condition of the employee and for the serious health condition of the employee's immediate family members. Requests for simultaneous FML by spouses employed by the same institutional unit may be granted for reasons of child birth, placement with the employee of a child for adoption or foster care, or care for a newborn child, to the extent that simultaneous leaves do not create a hardship with respect to the operational needs and work schedules of the applicable institutional unit.

IX. COMPENSATION DURING LEAVE

FML is an unpaid leave. However, an employee shall not be granted unpaid FML unless the employee has first exhausted all of the employee’s paid leave available for use under USM leave policies and procedures.
X. JOB PROTECTION

A. Except as provided in X. B., C., D., and F., employees returning to work at the conclusion of a FML shall be restored to their former position with the pay, benefits and terms and conditions of employment that they enjoyed immediately prior to the FML.

B. An employee is not entitled to restoration if the President or designee determines that the employee had been hired for a specific term or only to perform work on a specific project defined in writing and the term or project is over and the institution would not otherwise have continued to employ the employee.

C. 1. If at any point prior to or during the FML the President or designee determines that the employee's former position cannot be held available for the duration of the leave, the President or designee, at the conclusion of the leave, shall restore the employee to an equivalent position.

   2. If the determination of an inability to hold the former position available occurs after the FML begins, the President or designee shall immediately notify the employee in writing of details associated with the decision and the details of the equivalent position to which the employee will be restored. The employee shall have the right to return within fifteen (15) working days from receipt of such notice to keep his/her former position.

D. If there are reductions in the work force while the employee is on FML and he/she would have lost his/her position had he/she not been on leave, then except as provided under USM Policy on Layoff and USM Policy on Reinstatement, there is no obligation to restore the employee to his/her former or equivalent position.

E. If there are increases or decreases in pay, benefits, or other terms and conditions of employment while the employee is on FML and he/she would have had his/her pay, benefits, or other terms and conditions of employment changed were he/she not on leave, then except as provided under applicable USM policy, the employee shall be restored consistent with current, applicable, appropriate pay, benefits and other terms and conditions of employment.

F. Restoration of Key Employees

   1. If it is necessary to prevent substantial and grievous economic injury to the employing USM institution, the President may deny restoration to a key employee, provided that the employee was notified of his/her status as a key employee at the time the FML was requested or commenced, whichever was earlier.

   2. If the President or designee believes that restoration may be denied to a key employee, then at the time the FML is requested (or when leave commences, if earlier) or as soon as practicable thereafter, the President or designee shall provide the key employee with written notification of the potential terms, conditions and consequences of the leave. Notification shall include at least the following: a) notification of the fact that he/she qualifies as a key employee; and b) potential consequences with respect to restoration and maintenance of health benefits. Failure to provide such timely written notice shall result in the loss of the right to deny restoration to a key employee even if substantial and grievous economic injury will result from such restoration.

3. As soon as the President or designee makes a good faith determination, based on the facts available, that substantial and grievous economic injury to the institution will result if the key employee who has requested or who is using FML is restored, the employee shall be given written notice either in person or by certified mail of the following: a) that FML cannot be denied; b) notification of the President's/designee's intention to deny restoration upon completion of the FML; and c) an explanation of why restoration will result in substantial and grievous economic injury.

4. When practicable, the President shall provide the notice described in X. F. 3. at least one calendar week prior to the employee starting the leave. If such notice is provided after the leave commences, then the President also shall provide the employee a period of at least fifteen (15) working days from receipt of the notice to return to his/her position.

5. If a key employee does not return to work in response to the notification of intent to deny restoration, the employee continues to be entitled to maintenance of health benefits through the scheduled leave and the institution cannot recover its share of premiums unless and until the employee gives notice that he/she does not wish to return to work or the institution actually denies restoration at the conclusion of the leave.

6. After notice to a key employee has been given that substantial and grievous economic injury will result if the employee is restored to employment, an employee is still entitled to request restoration at the end of the leave period even if the employee did not return to work in response to the President's/designee's notice. Based on the facts at that time, the President or designee must then determine whether there will be substantial and grievous economic injury from restoration. If it is determined that substantial and grievous economic injury will result, the President or designee shall notify the employee in writing (in person or by certified mail) of the denial of restoration.

XI. STATUS OF BENEFITS WHILE ON FAMILY AND MEDICAL LEAVE

A. An employee who is granted an approved FML under this policy shall continue to be eligible for all employment benefits that he/she enjoyed immediately prior to the FML.

B. An employee on FML for reasons noted in Section III. A. may elect to continue employer-subsidized health care benefits during the period of leave. The President or designee shall provide advance written notice to the employee of the terms and conditions under which premium payments are to be made by the employee. The subsidy shall cease if an employee gives notice that he/she no longer wishes to return to work. The institution shall recover its share of health premiums during unpaid FML if the employee fails to return to work, or returns to work but fails to stay thirty (30) calendar days, unless the reason for not returning or staying is due to the continuation, recurrence or onset of a serious health condition or other circumstances beyond the employee's control.

C. An employee on FML for reasons noted in Section III. B. may elect to continue health care and other benefits, as permitted by law or regulation, by paying the full cost of the benefits, including the share ordinarily paid by the employer.

D. Except as noted in Section X. Job Protection, upon return from leave an employee shall be restored with all the rights, benefits and privileges enjoyed prior to the leave.

E. While on any unpaid portion of an FML, an employee shall not earn or accrue any additional leave or seniority credits.

F. An employee may elect to purchase service credit at the time of retirement for prior leaves without pay that are qualified by the Maryland State Retirement and Pension Systems. Upon approval of a leave without pay, an employee shall follow the institution procedure to assure that this option may be exercised.

XII. EMPLOYEE NOTICE REQUIREMENTS

Regardless of the reason for the FML an employee shall give at least thirty (30) calendar days notice and provide the appropriate medical certification or legal certification of adoption (as soon as practicable) or foster child placement, before taking FML. When the need for leave is not foreseeable, an employee shall give notice as soon as practicable but no less than two (2) working days of learning of the need for leave. If this is not possible due to a medical emergency, then the employee or the employee's designee shall give written notice and provide the appropriate certification as soon as practicable.

XIII. EMPLOYER NOTICE REQUIREMENTS

A. Eligibility Notice

When an employee requests FML, or when the employer acquires knowledge that an employee’s leave may be for an FML-qualifying reason, the employer must notify the employee of the employee’s eligibility to take FML leave within five (5) business days, absent extenuating circumstances. Notification of eligibility may be oral or in writing.

B. Rights and Responsibilities Notice

Employers shall provide written notice detailing the specific expectations and obligations of the employee and explaining any consequences of a failure to meet these obligations. This notice shall be provided to the employee each time the eligibility notice is provided.

C. Designation Notice

1. When the employer has enough information to determine whether the leave is being taken for an FML-qualifying reason (e.g., after receiving a certification), the employer must notify the employee in writing whether the leave will be designated and will be counted as FML leave within five business days absent extenuating circumstances. If the employer has sufficient information to designate the leave as FML leave immediately after receiving notice of the employee’s need for leave, the employer may provide the employee with the designation notice at that time.

2. If an employer does not designate leave as required in XIII.C.1. the employer may retroactively designate leave as FML leave with appropriate notice to the employee provided that the employer’s failure to timely designate leave does not cause harm or injury to the employee.

XIV. CERTIFICATION

A. Medical Certification For Serious Health Conditions of Employee or Family Member

1. For leaves related to serious health conditions and to child birth, the employee shall provide medical certification(s) from the employee's or family member's health care provider. The employee shall have fifteen (15) calendar days to obtain the medical certification unless not practicable to do so despite the employee's diligent good faith efforts. Such certification shall include but not be limited to:

   a. The name, addresses, telephone number, and fax number of the health care provider and type of medical practice/specialization.

   b. A diagnosis of the nature and extent of the condition giving rise to the use of FML.

   c. Approximate date condition commenced and its probable duration.

   d. A statement or description of appropriate medical facts regarding the patient’s health condition for which FML leave is requested, including a regimen of continuing treatment to be prescribed.

   e. The duration of absence from work,

   f. In the case of the employee’s serious health condition, certification that the employee is unable to perform the essential functions of his/her position and prognosis of the employee’s ability to return to his/her position,
g. In the case of the employee’s need to care for a seriously ill family member, information sufficient to establish that the family member is in need of care and an estimate of the frequency and duration of the leave required to care for the family member.

h. In cases of a request for intermittent leave, information sufficient to establish the medical necessity for such intermittent reduced schedule leave and an estimate of the dates and duration of such treatments and any periods of recovery.

2. The President or designee may require a second medical opinion at the institution's expense. In the case of conflicting opinions, the opinion of a third health care provider, agreed upon by both employee and the President or designee and obtained at the institution's expense, shall be final. The second and third opinions shall not be provided by individuals who are employed on a regular basis by the institution.

3. The President or designee may require reasonable recertification as the FML continues, and may require an employee to provide periodic progress reports as to the serious health condition for which he/she is taking leave and the employee's ability to return to work at the end of the leave. Recertification shall not be requested more often than every thirty (30) calendar days unless the employee requests an extension of FML, changed circumstances occur during the illness or injury, or the institution receives information that casts doubt upon the continuing validity of the most recent certification. Medical certification of fitness to return to work that includes medical limitations and their expected duration shall be requested in writing by the President or designee prior to the employee’s return to work.

B. Medical Certification for a Covered Servicemember

For military leave to care for a covered servicemember, the Department of Defense (DOD) healthcare providers, a healthcare provider from the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA), and DOD Tricare Network and non-network authorized healthcare providers are considered “authorized healthcare providers.” The USM may not utilize the second opinion or recertification process for this leave entitlement. Should an extension of leave be required, additional certification may be requested.

C. Consistent with FMLA and other applicable laws, all medical-related documentation will be kept confidential and maintained in a file separate from the employee's official institutional personnel file.

XV. SCHEDULING OF TREATMENT IN INSTANCES OF SERIOUS HEALTH CONDITIONS

A. In instances of the serious health condition of a family member or of the employee himself or herself, and in keeping with the requirements of the appropriate health care provider, the employee shall make reasonable efforts to schedule any medical treatments so as not to disrupt unduly the operations of the applicable institutional unit.

B. During the course of the treatment and as the President or designee deems appropriate, the employee may be requested to provide certification from the appropriate health care provider of the unavailability of treatment during non-work time, or at times that are less disruptive to the operations of the employee's unit.

XVI. PROVIDING INFORMATION ABOUT FML

Regardless of the reason for the leave, an employee shall provide complete, accurate and timely information related to a request for, continuation of, modification(s) to, and return from an FML.

XVII. ABUSE OF FML

The President or designee shall review, investigate and resolve suspected cases of bad faith, fraud or abuse of the FML program. Cases of bad faith, falsification of documents, or fraudulent information related to the FML provided to the institution, or other abuses of the FML program, may result in but are not limited to: revocation of the leave, refusal to restore, recovery of institutional costs for paid-time leave and insurance benefits premiums, and disciplinary action up to and including termination.

XVIII. EARLY RETURN FROM LEAVE

An employee interested in returning to work from a FML prior to the agreed upon end of the leave date shall provide the President or designee with a written request at least thirty (30) calendar days prior to the date on which the employee is interested in returning. The President or designee shall make a good faith effort to restore the employee to his/her former or an equivalent position as soon as possible at the employee's request but no later than the thirty (30) calendar day notice provided by the employee.

XIX. EXTENSIONS OF LEAVE

Employees may extend the date of return from an FML to the extent that they have FML entitlement available. A request for an extension of FML shall be considered under this policy as if it was an initial request.

XX. FAILURE TO RETURN FROM LEAVE

A. An employee who will not be returning to the institution at the conclusion of a leave shall notify the President or designee in writing as soon as practicable. In the absence of written notification, failure to return from leave shall be interpreted as a resignation.

B. If applicable, any benefit entitlements based upon length of service shall be calculated as of the employee's last paid day.
C. Employer costs of any payments made to maintain the employee's benefit coverage when on unpaid FML shall be recovered if an employee fails to return to work as described in Section X.B.

The President or designee may request certification of reasons for the employee's failure to return to work.

XXI. MISCELLANEOUS

A. The President or designee is under no obligation to immediately restore an employee whose return from leave does not coincide with the normal operating schedule of the institution or the normal work schedule of the employee's unit, or restore an employee whose return date is inconsistent with the terms and conditions of the employee's appointment.

B. Entitlement to begin FML for reasons of child birth, placement with the employee of a child for adoption or foster care, or care for a newborn child expires by no later than the 364th day after the date of birth or placement. Any such FML must be concluded within this one-year period.

C. When FML is taken by an employee on probation status, the probationary period shall be adjusted upon the return of the employee by the length of time used for FML.

D. Either the employee or the institution may initiate a period of FML.

E. Reasonable documentation relating to an employee’s request for FML may be requested.

IMPLEMENTATION PROCEDURES

Each President shall identify his/her designee(s) as appropriate for this policy, develop procedures as necessary to implement this policy, communicate this policy and applicable procedures to his/her institutional community, and post it on its institutional website.
