He also thanked Towson University for hosting the meeting and highlighted a number of major achievements at TU as well as many of the numerous achievements at institutions across the USM.
Chancellor Kirwan reported that the current FY 15 state funding was reduced by $6.3 million due to a decline in state revenues. Chancellor Kirwan noted that USM is facing a time of serious transition with a new academic year, the election of a new governor and lieutenant governor, and the naming of a new chancellor but expressed his confidence that the System and our institutions will continue to thrive as we educate and graduate more students, grow our research portfolio and advance discovery which will have a significant impact on economic growth, and continue to elevate Maryland’s quality of life.
