

TOWSON UNIVERSITY
PUBLIC COMMUNICATION CENTER

STUDENT-CRAFTED SPEECH RESOURCES: BUILDING A LEGACY FOR FUTURE PUBLIC SPEAKERS

TOWSON UNIVERSITY, DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNICATION STUDIES

ABOUT US

Building a legacy for future public speakers: For students, by students

The way students have contributed their talents, skills, and leadership qualities is a unique feature of Towson University's OER Public Speaking project. Student lead mentors at TU's Public Communication Center are developing and performing their own speeches that will be recorded for thousands of future public speaking students to view, analyze, and emulate. Participants will discover how to localize pedagogy by having students teach students and create valuable and relevant resources for ongoing learning.

MELANIE MORRIS

PROUNOUNS: SHE/HER/HERS

LECTURER & PUBLIC
SPEAKING COURSE DIRECTOR
AT TOWSON UNIVERSITY

PROJECT LEADER

BRENT BRADFORD

PRONOUNS: HE/HIM/HIS

UNDERGRADUATE MASS
COMMUNICATION MAJOR AT
TOWSON UNIVERSITY

PEER MENTOR & SUPERVISOR
PROJECT PARTICIPANT

OLIVIA KUEHNER

PROUNOUNS: SHE/HER/HERS

UNDERGRADUATE COMMUNICATION STUDIES
MAJOR AT TOWSON UNIVERSITY

PEER MENTOR & SUPERVISOR
PROJECT PARTICIPANT

SPEAKING CLIP EXAMPLES

BRENT

1. SPEECH
INTRODUCTION

2. SPEECH
TRANSITION EXAMPLE

3. SPEECH
CONCLUSION

ALEXA

1. SPEECH
INTRODUCTION

2. SPEECH
CONCLUSION

OLIVIA

1. SPEECH
INTRODUCTION

2. SPEECH
TRANSITION EXAMPLE

3. SPEECH
CONCLUSION

TOWSON UNIVERSITY
PUBLIC COMMUNICATION CENTER

THANK YOU

TOWSON UNIVERSITY, DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNICATION STUDIES