Workday's Approach to Internal Service Delivery

With Workday, changes in how internal billing transactions are managed will be implemented. See below for information.

What's Changing?

- Internal Billing Transactions – Currently, internal billing transactions are sent to the accounting department at each institution through email.
  - With Workday, internal billing transactions will be input into the platform and routed to the accounting department for approval. Transactions can also be uploaded via the Enterprise Interface Builder (EIB).
