  ➢ 68% of all MD comm college transfers to USM complete a bachelor’s within 6 years (60% within 4 years)

Questions and Discussion

Candace Caraco, Ph.D., Associate Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs, Division of Academic and Student Affairs
caraco@usmd.edu
Thank you, Madame Chair. I begin by echoing your earlier words about Regent Doug Peters. Doug’s life was defined by service—service to his country, his community, to our state and our students. His legacy animates our work going forward, and our dedication to that work is the most fitting way we can honor him. We miss him deeply.

As we come together for our first meeting of 2024, we have an opportunity to reflect on the year that just ended. You have a copy of the System’s 2023 Annual Report, and I hope you’ll take some time to celebrate what we’ve accomplished.

As we mark Black History Month, I congratulate our colleagues who made the Baltimore Sun’s list of 25 Black Marylanders to Watch: University of Maryland Eastern Shore (UMES) President Heidi Anderson, Dr. Esa Davis, associate vice president for community health at UMB, and Larry Stewart, head coach of the men’s basketball team at Coppin State University (CSU). Their excellence is inspiring.

In recounting our good news, I’ll start with our host this morning, the University of Baltimore (UBalt). We heard President Schmoke and Provost Mueller talk about their vision for UBalt, but I want to give a nod to the work it’s already doing every day. UBalt’s Second Chance College Program, educating—and graduating—incarcerated students, has been such a light in Maryland. As has its work on one of Gov. Moore’s top priorities: developing the next generation of public servants. And now, with its new Urban Conflict Manager Program, UBalt will train the city’s Safe Streets leaders in conflict management and violence prevention. This commitment, and these connections, make UBalt such a powerful force for good.

I’d be remiss if I didn’t mention that President Schmoke himself has been powerful force for good. Pending approval by the MLB and league owners, Kurt will be part of a new Baltimore-based ownership group for our beloved Orioles. So you can line up for some good seats this season—but you’ll have to get behind me.

Broadening our sights to good news spanning our universities: U.S. News & World Report has ranked the nation’s Best Online Degrees, evaluating nearly 2,000 bachelor’s and master’s programs. Six of our universities were recognized for a total of 19 programs: Salisbury University (SU), Towson University (TU), UBalt, and UMBC were ranked for programs including business, education, and IT. The School of Nursing at the University of Maryland, Baltimore (UMB) was recognized among the nation’s best in two programs, including a #3 ranking in nursing administration. And the University of Maryland, College Park (UMD) was listed among the best in 10 business and engineering programs, including several top 10 rankings.

Earlier this week, the Fulbright Program announced the nation’s top producers of Fulbright Scholars and Students. UMB was recognized for the number of Fulbright Scholars it produces, and UMBC and Towson University, for the number of Fulbright Students. Recognized in both categories—scholars and students—is UMD, one of only 12 U.S. universities to make both lists. Well done to you all.

Elsewhere across the USM, Bowie State University (BSU) launched its Esports Center last week, a state-of-the-art gaming hub where gamers—on and off BSU’s competitive team—can connect with one another and polish their skills. Also last week, President Breaux and her team welcomed U.S. Secretary of Education Miguel Cardona to campus, celebrating BSU’s work in opening pathways that diversify the school counseling and mental health professions—efforts that ultimately make it easier for underserved people to get the care they need. Sec. Cardona also learned how Bowie State is bringing more Black men into teaching and supporting them to success.

UMB also hosted a member of President Biden’s cabinet. U.S. Department of Health and Human Services Secretary Xavier Becerra discussed the state of women’s health care and reproductive rights with President Jarrell, Gov. Moore, and the UMB community. It was a timely discussion, given that Gov. Moore announced this week that UMB will get $10.6 million to shore up abortion access in Maryland with its Abortion Care Clinical Training Program. This grant joins some huge awards over the last several weeks: $30 million to prevent rehospitalization among IV drug users, $9 million to improve vaccine efficacy, $7 million to innovate trauma triage technology for mass casualty events. The list goes on, but, unfortunately, I cannot.

UMB also celebrated the opening of the Embrace Resource Center’s new space in West Baltimore. A partnership among UMB, local nonprofits, city agencies, and private businesses, the center will establish the Eutaw Street Corridor as a safe, thriving community for those living and working there.

Coppin State University is showing that same commitment to community. The CSU nursing program—along with programs at Johns Hopkins and Morgan State—is partnering with the Baltimore City School System to address nurse shortages in its schools. The five-year, $14 million program is aimed at tackling nursing shortages in the short term and growing the pipeline of nurses who choose school-based care over the long term.

It’s this kind of excellence that Coppin’s BE MORE capital campaign advances. The $25 million campaign, the largest in Coppin’s history, will support student achievement and retention, academic and research excellence, athletics, and operational sustainability.
Salisbury University has announced that its Museum of Eastern Shore Culture will open this summer next to SU Downtown. The museum will feature exhibits on local and indigenous cultures and include items from the carving collection formerly displayed at the Ward Museum of Wildfowl Art. And, of course, I know Sea Gull Nation was very proud to see SU Athletics Hall of Famer Dan Quinn named head coach of the Washington Commanders. I can tell some of you are thinking about jumping out of the line queuing up for Kurt and heading over to the one for Lyn.

UMBC is deep in the work of advancing diversity and inclusion in STEM—from its Meyerhoff Scholars Program to its Center for Women in Technology. Now you can add another program to this effort. UMBC has joined the National Academies’ Action Collaborative on Transforming Trajectories for Women of Color in Tech to build new pathways in tech education and careers for underrepresented women. Also at UMBC, the Center for Research in Emergent Manufacturing is launching a $3 million project to work with the U.S. Army on digitizing its supply chain.

At Towson University, the Albert S. Cook Library earned the inaugural Library Excellence in Access and Diversity Award from INSIGHT Into Diversity magazine. And after welcoming its largest-ever freshman class last fall, TU broke its record for incoming student applications—more than 20,000 of them. And since we’re on a bit of a sports theme, I’ll mention that TU alum Kristin Juszczyk made worldwide headlines when Taylor Swift wore one of her custom jackets to a Kansas City Chiefs game. She’s since landed a well-deserved licensing deal with the NFL.

The University of Maryland Global Campus (UMGC) was recognized with the 2023 Partner of the Year Award from the International Council of E-Commerce Consultants, the world’s largest cybersecurity technical certification body.

And UMGC had some wonderful coverage of one of its cybersecurity graduates: Jamel Shorts completed college courses while still a high school student in Prince George’s County, then earned his associate degree from Prince George’s Community College, then transferred seamlessly into UMGC, where he graduated in December—early, by the way—with a bachelor’s degree, a job bearing top-secret security clearance, and no debt. For a university with “global” in its name, UMGC’s impact is profoundly local.

Speaking of local: At Frostburg State University, graduate students in the Department of Kinesiology are working with local firefighters, examining how their on-the-job gear affects their stability, strength, and fitness. The goal is to improve firefighter performance, reduce injuries, and protect public safety. And two FSU professors, Dr. James Saku and Dr. Alemseged Abbay, have been appointed to Gov. Moore’s Commission on African Affairs, in recognition of their professional and personal ties to Africa and to Maryland’s diverse African population.

On the heels of celebrating a record year for young oysters in the Chesapeake Bay, University of Maryland Center for Environmental Science (UMCES) student Imani Black was featured on WYPR to discuss the region’s oyster population. In addition to pursuing her master’s at UMCES, she’s the founder and CEO of Minorities in Aquaculture, an advocacy group dedicated to diversifying the cultivation and study of marine life. I met Imani when I visited Horn Point a couple of years ago, and she’s the embodiment of UMCES’s incredible impact, locally and globally.

Pharmacy graduates from UMES have achieved the highest first-time licensure pass rate of any HBCU pharmacy school for the third-straight year—a remarkable accomplishment. Meanwhile, anticipation grows around UMES’s historic School of Veterinary Medicine. When it enrolls its first class in 2026, it’ll be the only veterinary program in Maryland and just the second at a U.S. HBCU. And last week, UMES hosted the 4th annual Man the Shore Summit to recruit men of color into teaching and to better serve the boys and young men in our classrooms.

A joyous tradition at the University of Maryland, College Park was featured in The Washington Post. Every year, a few lucky UMD hopefuls are greeted at their homes by Testudo and the UMD marching band, whose brass section literally “trumpets” the fact that these Early Action candidates have been accepted to the flagship. A terrific feel-good story. Also at UMD, Dr. Jeanette Epps, a Clark School graduate in aerospace engineering, will soon live the dream of all aerospace engineers, when she flies aboard a Dragon spacecraft to the International Space Station. There, she’ll begin a half-year stint as part of the crew.

These good-news items at UMD join several more: a $15 million NIH grant to study how the flu is transmitted; UMD’s leadership in a federal consortium to improve the trustworthiness and safety of AI; a multidisciplinary team’s $5 million NSF grant to develop technology that fights food insecurity; UMD taking its place among Newsweek’s Greatest Workplaces for Women.

And now to our regional centers: Rep. Steny Hoyer, Gov. Moore, and his cabinet toured the USM at Southern Maryland (USMSM) this month, learning how the center partners with the Navy in autonomous technology development. Meanwhile, 900 students from all three Southern Maryland counties converged on USMSM for tours and networking with employers, and 60 engineering students from Charles County Public Schools came to talk about the center’s work with Pax River and explore local education and job opportunities.

The USM at Hagerstown hosted 100 members of the Washington County Chamber of Commerce, showing off its Hospitality Center in the city’s downtown, which trains students in the culinary arts and hospitality management.

The Universities at Shady Grove launched the Joann Boughman Innovation Fellows program, honoring our beloved senior vice chancellor emerita. The annual fellowship supports four people leading innovation in academia, industry, government, and nonprofits—innovation that meets the needs of local students and employers. A fitting tribute.

I should share that, in recent weeks, I’ve talked extensively about the power and the value of our regional centers with lawmakers in Annapolis—how they serve students who simply can’t get a college education otherwise; how they fill acute workforce needs in their local communities; how they drive regional economic growth. I am unreservedly bullish on our regional centers, and I thank Dr. Abel, Dr. Khademian, and Dr. Ashby for their leadership.
That brings me to my concluding remarks on the legislative session and the governor’s proposed FY25 budget. His proposal includes $2.2 billion in state support for the USM. It’s a cut of $45.3 million—or 2.2 percent—from last year’s budget. Despite the cut, we do anticipate additional funding to cover COLA and merit increases for System employees. There’s nearly $5 million in additional funding for UMES, part of a federal/state partnership addressing decades of chronic underfunding of land-grant HBCUs. And the budget includes $35.5 million in new funding for all three of our HBCUs, the third installment of the 2021 settlement.

We recognize that this budget could have been worse, given the deficit that Maryland is facing. At the same time, every single dollar we get is vital to what we do for Maryland’s students. And that’s where our focus is. Therefore, if any funds come back to the System, I’ve asked that they be directed to financial aid for students in need. We’ve come so far and dedicated so many dollars to our promise of affordability. We have to keep this momentum going.

This legislative session has been incredibly busy, by any standard. More than 2,500 bills have been filed, and several affect the System and our universities. The testimony we’ve offered on these bills has been powerful, and that’s a credit to the engagement and collaboration of countless people at all of our universities. It’s been remarkable. I thank everyone who’s so effectively advocating for us and for our students—in and out of Annapolis—every single day.

I see that advocacy pay off every time I watch our elected officials use our universities as a backdrop to announce plans and policies important to Maryland and the country; every time our people are appointed to influential positions by state and national leaders; every time these same leaders meet with our presidents, tour our schools, learn about our programs, and, yes, fund them. They know we’re essential to the strength and vibrancy of Maryland, and I thank all of you for affirming that very fact.

Madame Chair, this concludes my report.

Board of Regents Meeting Report

February 16, 2024

Since our December meeting, CUSS had its January meeting - a snowy day where we met virtually and were warmly welcomed by President Schmoke. During our meeting we heard from the leaders of UMBC’s Office of Government Relations & Community Affairs: Candace Dodson-Reed (Vice President) and Jake Weissmann (Associate Vice President). They shared with us their tips for being most effective in meeting with legislators and advocating for our interests. We were also joined by Carolyn Skolnik, Associate Vice Chancellor for Policy and Human Resources with the USM, who shared her expertise on the USM salary structures and helped us understand the next steps involved in assessing these structures. Thank you to Candace, Jake, and Carolyn for joining us!

We launched our 7th annual shared governance survey, intended to assess the health of shared governance in 2023, as observed and experienced by those involved in shared governance. We are also working with CUSF to explore the potential of conducting a shared governance survey with a broader audience beyond those involved directly in governance. The goal of this survey is to understand the level of awareness of shared governance across our institutions.

The Board of Regents Staff Awards were due February 9th. In the coming months, we hope to put forward the best of the best for your review and approval. Thank you to all of the institutions who participated in this process and took the time to recognize our fantastic staff. I will provide a breakdown of participation once we have completed our review of the packets.

In lieu of a February meeting, CUSS will instead participate in Advocacy Day on February 21, 2024. 34 faculty, staff, and students from CUSS, CUSF, USMSC, and the USM Women’s Forum have confirmed their attendance. We look forward to advocating for the USM and the interests of our collective shared governance boards.

In January, Chancellor Perman and I met to discuss the benefits of Ombuds representation on our campuses and brainstormed strategies to advance this priority. I feel confident that we will continue to engage in discussion about how to use creative strategies to achieve access to this important resource on our campuses.

As always, please do not hesitate to contact me directly (krs@umd.edu) with concerns, questions, and/or suggestions.

Most Sincerely,

Kalia R. Patricio, Ph.D.
CUSS Chair
CUSP met twice, on January 8\textsuperscript{th} and February 5\textsuperscript{th}, since the last Board meeting.

Topics for the January 8\textsuperscript{th} meeting included updates on shared services, enrollment and tuition, and AFSCME negotiations. The presidents and senior staff also held discussions about student fees for employees’ principles and priorities for the legislative session, which started on January 10\textsuperscript{th}.

The February 5\textsuperscript{th} meeting started with an update on legislative session, including bills that will or may have an effect on the USM. The council discussed shared governance, as well as the recommendations of the program approval process workgroup. Senior Vice Chancellor Herbst spoke about the AFSCME wage agreement and its impact. She was then joined by Vice Chancellor Lawrence and Budget Director, Colleen Auburger, to discuss the operating and capital budgets.
USM Student Council’s Report to the Board of Regents
February 2024 Full Board of Regents Meeting, University of Baltimore

Good morning Chair Gooden, Chancellor Perman, the Board of Regents, and University Presidents,

I was grateful to be a part of the most recent, and my first in-person, Chancellor’s Chat in January for international students. Thank you so much Chancellor Perman for having us. Many of the students were international graduate students, and I gained some extremely valuable feedback from them, especially on international graduate student housing needs, which was very applicable to the international graduate student housing resolution the council has been working on. I stayed in touch with them beyond that conversation and met with a few earlier this month again. Conversations like this have also sparked the possibility of creating a subcommittee within the council specifically for international student initiatives.

We had our first general council meeting of the semester on February 4th. There were multiple items on the agenda, including collecting feedback on the housing resolution and on the proposed USM-wide civics course requirement. We’ll also be bringing the shared governance survey back to the USMSC and will report feedback from that when it comes. Additionally, we discussed a white paper written by a group of students advocating for system-wide hybrid learning options especially for the disabled community. Towards the end of the meeting, the council took some time to vote on 13 bills in session in preparation for the Government Relations committee to testify.

For the USM Student Speaker Forum, we have received speech drafts from each of the five presenters and will be working closely with them on edits and revisions before the event.

The Board of Regents Student Excellence Scholarship deadline has also passed– the application deadline was February 9th, and we received X applications. We are currently in the process of evaluating the application packets to send out for your approval around April.
Best regards,

Vainavi Gambhir
President, University System of Maryland Student Council
Regents Report February 16, 2024

This is a summary report of The Council of University System Faculty (CUSF) activities since our last submission in December 2023. The legislative session is in full swing and CUSF members are keeping up to date on issues that pertain to higher education and faculty. One way in which members are staying informed is through participating in Andy Clark’s Joint Councils Weekly Legislative Update Calls on Monday mornings. The council is also preparing for Advocacy Day, which will take place on February 21, 2024.

Since my last report, CUSF and the CUSF Executive Committee have both met. The CUSF General Body Meeting was held on January 23, 2024 at the USM Adelphi Office. In the remainder of the report, I will highlight a few of the initiatives that are happening within our various committees.

CUSF Meetings

CUSF General Body Meeting: January 23, 2024

A CUSF General Body Meeting was held on January 23, 2024. The meeting was held in person (with a virtual option) at the USM Adelphi Office. One highlight of this meeting was having Chancellor Perman join us and share USM updates and answer questions. Dr. Heather Haverback and Dr. Zakiya Lee also gave brief updates.

The Legislative Affairs Committee presented three resolutions (shared in this report) on the topics of Collective Bargaining Faculty, Collective Bargaining Students, and Retiree Drug Benefits. Discussion was held for each resolution. The Collective Bargaining Faculty and Collective Bargaining Students resolutions were voted on at the meeting. The Retiree Drug Benefits resolution was voted on via email at a later date. All resolutions passed.

Executive Committee

The Executive Committee met on January 3, 2024 and February 7, 2023. At these meetings, we discussed the work being done in committees, as well as current topics of interest to USM faculty. Heather Haverback, Alison Wrynn, and Zakiya Lee shared updates/reports with the committee. The Executive Committee discussed issues and ideas brought forth by faculty, the faculty survey, and advocacy day. The Rules Committee presented an update to the constitution that will be shared with the GB for a first read at our next meeting.

Awards Committee
Chairperson- Dr. Ben Arah, Bowie State University

Recommendations have been received by the board and are making their way through the process.

Education Policy Committee

Chairperson- Dr. Mary Crowley-Farrell, University of Maryland Global Campus

The Education Policy Committee has been busy sending out the second round of reminders for the AI Conference’s Call for Presentation Proposals. More specifically, they are currently circulating the Call for Presentation Proposals on all USM campuses. Session proposals are due by 11:59 pm ET on February 12, 2024.

The conference, Incorporating Generative AI into Learning Experiences: A Virtual Showcase, will take place via Zoom on Friday, April 26, 2024, from 10:00 am to 1:00 pm ET. The event is being organized by the Kirwan Center, CUSF, MarylandOnline, and Montgomery College. It will focus on how college and university faculty across the state are adapting their assignments and learning activities to meet the challenges of generative AI. The presenters will be selected from two-year, four-year, public, and independent colleges and universities in the state.

Volunteers from the Education Policy Committee and the co-sponsoring organizations will review submissions and selections will be announced by mid-March. The committee is also involved with finding a keynote speaker. The suggestions made before CUSF became involved have now been abandoned in favor of our recommendation to ask Ethan Mollick (as mentioned in a previous report). We have also provided the organizers a new backup choice: James Lang of Cheating Lessons fame. Lang has been doing podcasts and webinars on how to adapt the book’s ideas to curriculum design that meets the challenges of AI.

Our other conference work is on-going: updating the annotated AI resources list. Committee members are researching potential resources for this list from the perspective of their disciplines. The next full meeting of the Organizing Committee is March 7, 2024.

Faculty Affairs Committee

Chairperson- Dr. Doris Santamaria-Makang, Frostburg State University

The committee continues to work on the broad topics of Diversity Equity & Inclusion (DEI) and Academic Support Personnel. In the last Faculty Concerns Committee meeting, the committee worked on issues to be explored by their subcommittees. The three subcommittees/groups are Campus Safety, Affirmative Action, and Adjunct Faculty and GAs. Each group has been charged with working on each of three issues previously identified for this committee. More specifically, each group is performing an assessment of policies and practices currently in place on campuses across the system. Each subcommittee would use the information collected to present recommendations to CUSF.
Legislative Affairs Committee

Chairperson- Dr. Holly Brewer, University of Maryland, College Park

The Legislative Affairs Committee wrote and presented the three resolutions mentioned above (Collective Bargaining Faculty, Collective Bargaining Students, and Retiree Drug Benefits), which are shared in this report. The committee has also been working on organizing the 2024 Annapolis Day.

Rules and Membership Committee

Chairpersons- Dr. Jay Zimmerman, Towson University and Dr. Nagaraj Neerchal, University of Maryland, Baltimore County

The committee is working on proposed changes to the CUSF Constitution, which will be an update to USM institution names. This document is under review with the OGC.

Respectfully submitted,

Dr. Heather Rogers Haverback

CUSF Chair
Resolution A

Reaffirming the CUSF Affirmative Position for Collective Bargaining Rights for University System of Maryland Faculty for this year (2024).

Motion”: To pass the following motion which was passed every year by CUSF between 2010 and 2017. The part in bold is what we would be passing,

Collective Bargaining Motion

"Resolution Reaffirming the CUSF Affirmative Position for Collective Bargaining Rights for University System of Maryland Faculty

Whereas, the Council of University System Faculty (CUSF) serves as the faculty advisory body for the University System of Maryland (USM); and

Whereas, CUSF Council passed 23-3 the following resolution on November 16, 2010 which was and still is the current position of CUSF regarding collective bargaining.

CUSF urges the Chancellor and the Board of Regents to support legislation extending the right to consider the alternative of collective bargaining to USM faculty. This is not an endorsement of collective bargaining. Rather CUSF would like each campus to have the right to consider collective bargaining if it chooses based on its circumstances, as other public sector employees, even on some of our campuses, already have done. (CUSF CB Resolution passed by 23-3 on 11/16/10).

Be It Resolved, that CUSF again reaffirms its existing policy position stated in November 16, 2010 motion.

Submitted by: CUSF Legislative Affairs Committee

Passed on: December 14, 2017"

Resolution B
CUSF Resolution in Favor of Graduate Student Collective Bargaining
Passed at CUSF General Meeting on February 24, 2023

Motion: Move that we reaffirm our Commitment to this Resolution for this Year (2024)

Whereas the Council of University System Faculty (the Council) consists of faculty representatives elected by the faculties of the constituent institutions of the University System of Maryland (USM) to represent USM faculty; and

Whereas it is the Council's responsibility to consider and make recommendations on matters of System wide professional and educational concern to USM faculty; and

Whereas the Council advises the USM Chancellor and reports regularly to the USM Board of Regents on matters of interest to USM faculty; and

Whereas CUSF members and their constituents are committed to supporting graduate students at USM institutions, who represent the next generation of higher education teachers, researchers, and scholars; and

Whereas support for graduate students at USM universities is an excellent investment in the growth of the Maryland economy because USM graduate students contribute substantially to the next generation of Maryland leaders in education, business, health care, and research; and

Whereas pursuing a graduate education is inherently challenging, and unnecessary additional challenges related to financial support and compensation, health care benefits and working conditions create barriers to recruitment to and completion of graduate programs; and

Whereas CUSF members and their constituents have observed that students pursuing graduate studies at USM institutions face significant challenges relating to working conditions, financial support, compensation, and benefits; and

Whereas CUSF members and their constituents believe that these challenges have a deleterious effect on the education and research mission at USM institutions; and

Whereas USM graduate students have consistently expressed a desire to address these challenges by engaging in collective bargaining; and

Whereas bills proposed in the Maryland General Assembly in each of the last five years that would allow graduate students at USM institutions to engage in collective bargaining have earned consistent, overwhelming support from graduate students and USM faculty and staff; and

Whereas graduate students at many top research universities have formed collective bargaining units in recent years; and

Whereas graduate students are transitory employees with no direct, sustained professional ties to state government; and

Whereas graduate students at USM institutions do not have supervisory or managerial control over their institutions or working conditions; and

Whereas individual graduate students at USM institutions with a collective bargaining unit will have the option not to join or financially support a union;

Be it here resolved that the Council supports the amendment of Maryland law to allow graduate students at USM institutions to engage in collective bargaining.

Submitted by the Legislative Affairs Committee.
CUSF is concerned about the impact of the termination of Prescription Drug Benefits for Maryland State Retirees scheduled to occur on January 1, 2025. We recommend extending the current benefit until at least January 2026. This will provide the opportunity to conduct a systematic and thorough evaluation of the financial impact on retirees of the loss of this promised benefit. Moreover, an accurate calculation of the State’s annual cost for this supplemental benefit is essential.

CUSF believes that when they retire, all State employees should be provided with the Maryland Prescription Drug Benefit, which functions as a wrap-around plan that supplements a retiree’s Medicare Part D Prescription Drug Insurance Plan. This current benefit provides coverage of prescription drugs for retirees that is equivalent to the drug benefit for active employees.

Why?

First, the majority of these retirees are Maryland voters, almost 50,000 senior citizens, and include many of our colleagues. The number of voters is substantially greater when one considers family members, who can be covered under this benefit.

Second, the State promised prescription drug benefit coverage for retirees to all employees hired before July 2011. Employees who devoted their careers in service to Maryland, working the required number of years to earn retirement benefits, deserve to have the State’s promised benefits honored. Employees have fulfilled their part of the bargain. The termination of this promised benefit violates the commitment that the State had made to its long-term employees, whether or not the courts consider this a binding contract.

Third, we are concerned the termination of this benefit will compromise the financial stability of many long-term state employees because their out-of-pocket costs will increase substantially.

We have carefully reviewed multiple analyses of this Prescription Drug Benefit, in conversation with retirees. The actuarial calculations done by the State of Maryland appear to be cursory, and overestimate the State’s actual cost because they neglect to include a number of essential factors. Various analyses suggest that the annual cost of this wrap-around prescription drug benefit is relatively modest, especially compared to what it would cost the retirees to pay for drugs themselves. It appears that the State has failed to comprehend the true costs for retirees of the loss of this benefit.

These calculations are complex because the impact of the supplemental prescription drug benefit depends upon the coverage of specific prescription drugs on each selected Medicare Part D Insurance Plan. Importantly, in the absence of the wrap-around prescription drug benefit, drugs must be on the formulary of the Medicare Part D plan in which the retiree is enrolled; if a drug is not on the formulary and there is no supplemental plan, “the retiree must pay the full cost and this cost will not count toward the out-of-pocket cap.” Thus, for drugs not on the Medicare Part D plan formulary, the Maryland State wrap around plan becomes even more crucial for retirees.

Fundraising Updates (information)

USM Alumni Directors Panel Presentation (information)

Discussion of the USM BOR IX – 4.00 – BOR Policy on Alumni Associations (action)
The System’s advancement vice presidents and alumni directors have worked with the System staff to update the policy. The main changes are stronger requirements and clearer processes for those wishing to establish new alumni associations on their campuses; language that ensures that alumni associations that are involved in fundraising are aware of the USM’s fundraising policy and that they follow the policy; and new processes for sending annual reports to the USM office rather than the responsible official; and the addition of reporting templates to simplify the entire process.

The Committee voted unanimously to recommend approval of this policy to the full Board of Regents.

USM Quasi-Endowment Grant Summary Report for 2023 (information)
This program began in 2015 after legislation was passed to allow the System to invest some of its fund balance with the USM Foundation. Part of the income generated from those investments goes directly back to campuses, but a portion of it funds this grant program. The summary report outlines how the campuses have been able to use these funds for a lot of great initiatives. Some examples include hiring pilot staffing positions that have turned into full-time positions, resulting in an increase in fundraising and sponsorship support for many events better engaging parents and families which in turn elevated the number of parent donors; and using matching funds to increase endowment scholarship funds.

Regent Breslin noted that funding requests far exceed the funds available and suggested exploring ways to expand the fund.

The meeting was adjourned at 11:47 am.

Board of Regents Policy on Alumni Associations

The University System of Maryland Board of Regents (Board) recognizes the importance of alumni associations in fostering and maintaining close and mutually beneficial ties between alumni and the constituent institutions and Centers (Institutions) of the University System of Maryland (USM). It is the intent of the Board 1) to develop policies and procedures governing the recognition and management of alumni organizations, including the use of funds and institutional resources and, 2) to ensure cooperative and collaborative efforts between the alumni organizations and the Institutions they support.

I. Guiding Principles

A. Alumni associations should be organized and operated for the benefit of the Institution and its alumni.
B. Alumni associations should provide service and support to its members and to the Institution.
C. Alumni associations may not restrict membership or benefits of membership on the basis of race, religion, national origin, gender, physical disability or sexual orientation.
D. Alumni associations should recognize the unique role of the Responsible Official (as defined herein) in setting Institution priorities.

II. Recognition

An alumni association may use the name, facilities or resources of an Institution only if recognized by the Board pursuant to this policy, only to the extent permitted by this policy. In order to be recognized as an alumni association, an organization must have, as its purpose, one or more of the following:

A. To foster or promote the general welfare of an Institution; or
B. To advocate for public or private support of an Institution; or
C. To provide educational, charitable or cultural activities for the benefit of the alumni or an Institution.

The procedure for recognition of a new alumni association is set forth below.

III. Association

Alumni associations may be associated with the USM, an Institution or a component thereof.

IV. Responsible Official

The Responsible Official is responsible for the relationship between the Institution and the alumni association. The President of the Institution shall be the Responsible Official for an alumni association associated with his or her Institution or a component thereof. In the case of an alumni association affiliated with a regional higher education center, the Chancellor shall be the Responsible Official.

V. Organization of Alumni Association

Alumni associations must be organized in one of two structures.

A. An alumni association may be organized as a Maryland nonstock corporation, tax exempt under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code (Incorporated Alumni Associations). The governing body of an Incorporated Alumni Association shall be its Board of Directors, which shall include a representative from the Institution or a component of the Institution (or for an alumni association associated with the USM, a representative from the USM) as an ex-officio non-voting member.

B. Alternatively, an alumni association or office of alumni relations may choose to conduct and finance its program under the auspices and financial and operational oversight of the Institution or the USM (Internal Alumni Associations). In this case, advisory boards may be formed to assist and support the Institution’s alumni association or office of alumni relations, but the Institution (or, for an internal alumni association associated with the USM, the USM) shall maintain all of the books and records of the program.

VI. Operating Agreement/Policies and Procedures

Incorporated Alumni Associations must enter into a written operating agreement between the Institution and the alumni association (or for an incorporated alumni association associated with the USM, between the alumni association and the USM) on an annual basis authorizing the alumni association to operate and identifying the sharing of resources, facilities and employees and the costs thereof, and the consideration from the alumni association for the costs associated with the use of Institution resources, facilities and employees. The operating agreement shall also articulate the responsibility of the alumni association to be clear in its communications, negotiations, and transactions with third parties that while associated with the Institution or the USM, the alumni association is a separate and distinct entity and the obligations of the alumni association are not the obligations of the Institution, the USM or the State of Maryland.

An Internal Alumni Association shall establish, in cooperation with the Institution it serves (or, for an internal alumni association associated with the USM, the USM), written policies and procedures governing its operations.

VII. Accountability and Reporting

Within 180 days of the close of the USM’s fiscal year, the Responsible Official shall submit the following to the USM Office of Advancement:

Incorporated Alumni Associations

A. Certificate of Good Standing from the Maryland State Department of Assessments and Taxation (current within 60 days of submission)
B. List of Board of Directors as of the end of the fiscal year
C. Statement signed by the Responsible Official affirming that the alumni association has operated in accordance with the policies of the Board of Regents of the USM and with laws and regulations of the State of Maryland and the United States and in particular the Internal Revenue Code
D. Audited Financial Statements, if annual revenues exceed $100,000
E. If revenues are less than $100,000, financial statement prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting standards
F. Report of the major activities of the alumni association
G. Copy of operating agreement

Internal Alumni Associations

A. Report of major activities of the alumni association
B. List of Advisory Board members, if any
C. Copy of Policies and Procedures
D. Statement signed by the Responsible Official affirming that the alumni association has operated in accordance with the policies of the Board of Regents of the USM and with laws and regulations of the State of Maryland and the United States.

See Appendix C for reporting templates for Incorporated Alumni Associations and Internal Alumni Associations.
VIII. Procedure to Recognize New Alumni Association

All requests to the Board of Regents for the recognition of a new alumni association should be approved by, and submitted through, the President of the requesting institution. Institutions are encouraged to develop their own policies and procedures regarding establishment of new alumni associations that align with the requirements below. In the event that an alumni association affiliated with a regional higher education center should be proposed, the Chancellor would be the Responsible Official and the request should be approved by and submitted through the Chancellor. Other than these instances, it is not anticipated that any new alumni associations would be affiliated with the USM.

Requests should be submitted six weeks prior to a regularly scheduled Committee on Advancement meeting at which the request will be considered. Requests will be reviewed within the USM Office of the Chancellor before being submitted for review by the Board of Regents Committee on Advancement. The Committee on Advancement will then 1) decline the request, 2) request additional information or clarification, or 3) recommend recognition by the full Board.

Any proposal for a new alumni association should demonstrate that it is an organization that is inclusive of all alumni and does not replicate the functions or mission of an existing alumni association benefiting the Institution. In making requests for recognition of a new alumni association, the following information is to be submitted:

A. Rationale for proposed establishment of the alumni association.
B. Structure and functions of the proposed alumni association.
C. A copy of the proposed operating agreement for an independent alumni association and a copy of the policy and procedures for an internal association.
D. For an incorporated alumni association, a business plan narrative, including use of institution staff or resources, information on how the association will achieve a scale sufficient to satisfy all reporting and compliance requirements for tax exempt organizations and appropriately manage organizational risks, and an analysis of the additional engagement and donor benefit that would result from the new association.
E. For an internal alumni association, an analysis of the resource capacity of the institution to support the association, and an analysis of the additional engagement and donor benefit that would result from the new association.

IX. Fundraising

All alumni associations must comply with 307.0 IX-300 Policy on Private Fundraising and Stewardship, in particular this statement:

No faculty member or other employee, alum or student of the University System of Maryland may solicit gifts and grants on behalf of an institution, or the System without the prior knowledge and approval of the President or Chancellor, as appropriate. Informal exploratory inquiries to locate possible outside sources of support do not require such prior approval.
Alumni associations may only fundraise for their association or for its associated Institution. Institutions are encouraged to develop specific policies relating to alumni association fundraising efforts.

For Incorporated Alumni Associations, governing documents should indicate that, upon dissolution, any remaining assets held by the association will be transferred to a Board of Regents recognized entity for the benefit of the associated Institution.

X. Termination of Recognition

A Responsible Official or the Board of Regents may terminate the recognition of an alumni association that does not comply with this policy or the Institution’s policy and procedures. In such a case, the alumni association shall no longer hold itself out to the public as being affiliated with the USM or any of its constituent institutions and no institutional resources will be provided to the association.

Board of Regents Policy on Alumni Associations

The University System of Maryland Board of Regents (Board) recognizes the importance of alumni associations in fostering and maintaining close and mutually beneficial ties between alumni and the constituent institutions (Institutions) of the University System of Maryland (USM). It is the intent of the Board 1) to develop policies and procedures governing the recognition and management of alumni organizations, including the use of funds and institutional resources and, 2) to ensure cooperative and collaborative efforts between the alumni organizations and the Institutions they support.

I. Guiding Principles

A. Alumni associations should be organized and operated for the benefit of the Institution and its alumni.
B. Alumni associations should provide service and support to its members and to the Institution.
C. Alumni associations may not restrict membership or benefits of membership on the basis of race, religion, national origin, gender, physical disability or sexual orientation.
D. Alumni associations should recognize the unique role of the Responsible Official (as defined herein) in setting Institution priorities.

II. Recognition

An alumni association may use the name, facilities or resources of an Institution only if recognized by the Board pursuant to this policy, only to the extent permitted by this policy. In order to be recognized as an alumni association, an organization must have, as its sole purpose, one or more of the following:

A. To foster or promote the general welfare of an Institution; or
B. To advocate for public or private support of an Institution; or
C. To provide educational, charitable or cultural activities for the benefit of the alumni or an Institution.

The procedure for recognition of a new alumni association is set forth below.

III. Association

Alumni associations may be associated with the USM, an Institution or a component thereof, all of which are herein for convenience referred to as the Institution.

IV. Responsible Official

The Responsible Official is responsible for the relationship between the Institution and the alumni association. The President of the Institution shall be the Responsible Official for an alumni association associated with his or her Institution or a component thereof. In the case of Alumni Association International or an alumni association affiliated with a regional higher education center, the Chancellor shall be the Responsible Official.

V. Organization of Alumni Association

Alumni associations must be organized in one of two alternative structures.

A. An alumni association may be organized as a Maryland nonstock corporation, tax exempt under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code (Incorporated Alumni Associations). The governing body of an Incorporated Alumni Association shall be its Board of Directors, which shall include a representative from the Institution or a component of the Institution (or for an alumni association associated with the USM, a representative from the USM) as an ex-officio non-voting member.

B. Alternatively, an alumni association or office of alumni relations may choose to conduct and finance its program under the auspices and financial and operational oversight of the Institution or the USM (Internal Alumni Associations). In this case, advisory boards may be formed to assist and support the Institution’s alumni association or office of alumni relations, but the Institution (or, for an internal alumni association associated with the USM, the USM) shall maintain all of the books and records of the program.

VI. Operating Agreement/Policies and Procedures

Incorporated Alumni Associations must enter into a written operating agreement between the Institution and the alumni association (or for an incorporated alumni association associated with the USM, between the alumni association and the USM) on an annual basis authorizing the alumni association to operate and identifying the sharing of resources, facilities and employees and the costs thereof, and the consideration from the alumni association for the costs associated with the use of Institution resources, facilities and employees. The operating agreement shall also articulate the responsibility of the alumni association to be clear in its communications, negotiations and transactions with third parties that while associated with the Institution or the USM, the alumni association is a separate and distinct entity and the obligations of the alumni association are not the obligations of the Institution, the USM or the State of Maryland.

An Internal Alumni Association shall establish, in cooperation with the Institution it serves (or, for an internal alumni association associated with the USM, the USM), written policies and procedures governing its operations.

VII. Accountability and Reporting

Within 180 days of the close of the USM’s fiscal year, the Responsible Official shall submit the following to the USM Office of Advancement:

Incorporated Alumni Associations

A. Certificate of Good Standing from the Maryland State Department of Assessments and Taxation (current within 60 days of submission)
B. List of Board of Directors as of the end of the fiscal year
C. Statement signed by the Responsible Official affirming that the alumni association has operated in accordance with the policies of the Board of Regents of the USM and with laws and regulations of the State of Maryland and the United States and in particular the Internal Revenue Code
D. Audited Financial Statements, if annual revenues exceed $100,000
E. If revenues are less than $100,000, financial statement prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting standards
F. Report of the major activities of the alumni association
G. Copy of operating agreement

Internal Alumni Associations

A. Report of major activities of the alumni association
B. List of Advisory Board members, if any
C. Copy of Policies and Procedures
D. Statement signed by the Responsible Official affirming that the alumni association has operated in accordance with the policies of the Board of Regents of the USM and with laws and regulations of the State of Maryland and the United States.

See Appendix C for reporting templates for Incorporated Alumni Associations and Internal Alumni Associations.

Any alumni association that is also an affiliated foundation must comply with Section 15—
104(b)(7) of the Education Article of the Annotated Code of Maryland: “(7) No funds shall be accepted from an affiliated foundation by a public institution of postsecondary education.”
education unless the fiscal affairs of the affiliated foundation are audited annually by an independent certified public accountant.” (NOTE: THIS PARAGRAPH REFERS TO THE MEDICAL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION, WHICH HAS BEEN RECLASSIFIED AS A BUSINESS ENTITY.)

VIII. Procedure to Recognize New Alumni Association

All requests to the Board of Regents for the recognition of a new alumni association should be approved by, and submitted through, the President of the requesting institution. Institutions are encouraged to develop their own policies and procedures regarding establishment of new alumni associations that align with the requirements below. In the event that an alumni association affiliated with a regional higher education center should be proposed, the Chancellor would be the Responsible Official and the request should be approved by and submitted through the Chancellor. Other than these instances, it is not anticipated that any new alumni associations would be affiliated with the USM.

Requests should be submitted six weeks prior to a regularly scheduled Committee on Advancement meeting at which the request will be considered. Requests will be reviewed within the USM Office of the Chancellor before being submitted for review by the Board of Regents Committee on Advancement. The Committee on Advancement will then 1) decline the request, 2) request additional information or clarification, or 3) recommend recognition by the full Board.

Any proposal for a new alumni association should demonstrate that it is an organization that is inclusive of all alumni and does not replicate the functions or mission of an existing alumni association benefiting the Institution. In making requests for recognition of a new alumni association, the following information is to be submitted:

A. Rationale for proposed establishment of the alumni association.
B. Structure and functions of the proposed alumni association.
C. A copy of the proposed operating agreement for an independent alumni association and a copy of the policy and procedures for an internal association.
D. For an incorporated alumni association, a business plan narrative, including use of institution staff or resources, information on how the association will achieve a scale sufficient to satisfy all reporting and compliance requirements for tax exempt organizations and appropriately manage organizational risks, and an analysis of the additional engagement and donor benefit that would result from the new association.
E. For an internal alumni association, an analysis of the resource capacity of the institution to support the association, and an analysis of the additional engagement and donor benefit that would result from the new association.

IX. Fundraising

All alumni associations must comply with 307.0 IX-300 Policy on Private Fundraising and Stewardship, in particular this statement:

No faculty member or other employee, alum or student of the University System of Maryland may solicit gifts and grants on behalf of an institution, or the System without the prior knowledge and approval of the President or Chancellor, as appropriate. Informal exploratory inquiries to locate possible outside sources of support do not require such prior approval.

Alumni associations may only fundraise for their association or for its associated Institution. Institutions are encouraged to develop specific policies relating to alumni association fundraising efforts.

For Incorporated Alumni Associations, governing documents should indicate that, upon dissolution, any remaining assets held by the association will be transferred to a Board of Regents recognized entity for the benefit of the associated Institution.

IX.X. Termination of Recognition

A Responsible Official or the Board of Regents may terminate the recognition of an alumni association that does not comply with this policy or the Institution’s policy and procedures. In such case, the alumni association shall no longer hold itself out to the public as being affiliated with the USM or any of its constituent institutions and no institutional resources will be provided to the association.

   CliftonLarsonAllen, LLP’s Engagement Partner presented the final results of their FY 2023 audit of USM’ financial statements. The results opined an unmodified opinion with an emphasis of matter. The independent auditor noted:

   - A material weakness in internal controls was discovered regarding inclusion of Faculty Physicians Plan;
   - No instances of fraud were discovered through audit procedures; and
   - The auditor received full cooperation from management.

TOPIC: Academic Program Proposal: Salisbury University: Master of Arts (M.A.) in Public Communication

COMMITTEE: Education Policy and Student Life and Safety

DATE OF COMMITTEE MEETING: Tuesday, January 16, 2024

SUMMARY: The proposed Public Communication M.A. program is based on the premise that each student brings to the program a unique set of experiences that shape their individual identity and goals. Students will gain proficiency and insight in the digital persuasion skills necessary to design strategic campaigns, produce multimedia products, manage social networks, understand audience motivations, and shape public engagements and behaviors. Students will learn how to conduct media research and examine the legal issues that inform the industry, study organizational behavior, employ analytics to understand digital engagement, and glean audience insights into the various communication fields.

The public communication program requires students to complete 36 credit hours of coursework. Students must take four foundation core courses (12 hours). Students then complete 12 hours of analytical and applied interdisciplinary electives and 9 hours in their specialized area of interest. Finally, the students carry out a 3-hour capstone by completing a scholarly thesis, a community-engaged project, or an internship. Capstones also require completion of a comprehensive exam.

ALTERNATIVE(S): The Regents may not approve the program or may request further information.

FISCAL IMPACT: No additional funds are required. The program can be supported by the projected tuition and fee revenue.

CHANCELLOR’S RECOMMENDATION: That the Education Policy and Student Life and Safety Committee recommend that the Board of Regents approve the proposal from Salisbury University to offer an M.A. in Public Communication.

Dear Chancellor Perman:

On behalf of President Carolyn Lepre, the faculty, and the entire Salisbury University (SU) community, I am pleased to submit a request for approval for a new Master of Arts in Public Communication. The program encompasses three highly focused subject areas: athletic, health, and political communication. These three areas enable students to gain proficiency and insights in digital persuasion skills necessary to design strategic campaigns, produce multimedia products, manage social networks, understand audience motivations, and shape public engagements and behaviors.

The proposal, fully endorsed by Salisbury University, is attached for your review.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Laurie Couch, Ph.D.

A. Centrality to Institutional Mission and Planning Priorities

1. Provide a description of the program, including each area of concentration (if applicable), and how it relates to the institution’s approved mission.

Drawing upon the knowledge and experience of award-winning faculty and scholars, Salisbury University’s (SU’s) proposed Public Communication M.A. program will allow students to customize academic pathways to build understanding. The program is based on the premise that each student brings to the program a unique set of experiences that shape their individual identity and goals. Through a rigorous examination of the philosophical and theoretical foundations of communication theory and highly focused subject areas (e.g., athletic, health, corporate, or political communication), the program equips the student with the methodological and disciplinary skills to analyze, design, and implement innovative and diverse communication solutions to contemporary social challenges.

Students will gain proficiency and insight in the digital persuasion skills necessary to design strategic campaigns, produce multimedia products, manage social networks, understand audience motivations, and shape public engagements and behaviors. Students will learn how to conduct media research and examine the legal issues that inform the industry, study organizational behavior, employ analytics to understand digital engagement, and glean audience insights into the various communication fields. With the guidance of the graduate director, students will customize a program that reflects their career goals.

Through a combination of research- and industry-focused mentoring, real-life engagement, in-depth scholarly discussions and practical training, the proposed graduate program prepares the next generation of communication professionals and scholars to shape the post-pandemic twenty-first century world as both thoughtful scholars and innovative industry leaders.

This program neither duplicates nor harms another institution. In our state and around our region there is high demand for expertly trained public communication practitioners and researchers. The program’s unique features provide training in corporate, governmental, health care and athletic communication, which provides a perfect follow-on area of study for many of the state’s undergraduates aspiring to administrative positions in these industries. In addition, this program fills a gap in the current master’s program offerings at sister institutions in Maryland.

2. Explain how the proposed program supports the institution’s strategic goals and provide evidence that affirms it is an institutional priority.

The proposed M.A. in Public Communication closely aligns with SU’s mission. The program stresses community engagement via a diverse, student-centered learning environment that encourages a broad array of ideas and perspectives. Through affordable experiential learning, faculty mentors will train civicly minded social scientists who will join the state’s workforce fulfilling the University’s commitment to serving “the local Eastern Shore community and the educational, economic, cultural, and social needs of our State and nation.” Further, the proposed program aligns with several of SU’s Strategic Plan objectives including: 1.1: Continue to support and develop our wide range of exceptional and challenging academic programs and experiences; 4.3: Enhance and expand local and regional partnerships and strategic alliances with private, public, and nonprofit organizations; and 4.4: Support community-based learning and community-engaged scholarship.
3. Provide a brief narrative of how the proposed program will be adequately funded for at least the first five years of the program implementation.

Salisbury University will provide the proposed program with adequate resources, facilities, and faculty in the same manner that it currently does for its existing academic programs in the Fulton School of Liberal Arts. Declines in some enrollments have created capacity for additional students and course delivery. Associated costs will be largely offset by existing tuition and course fees. Existing space (including those for specialized activities) will be utilized, with the capacity in the schedule for additional sections of courses. Should enrollment in the new program exceed expectations, additional faculty or other support may become necessary. Advising support will also be very important to the success of the program and will be provided by the program director and graduate faculty.

4. Provide a description of the institution’s commitment to:
   a. Ongoing administrative, financial, and technical support of the proposed program: The internal approval procedure for new programs at SU ensures the University’s commitment to ongoing administrative, financial, and technical support of the proposed program. The Fulton School of Liberal Arts is well-established and includes graduate programs in Conflict Analysis & Dispute Resolution (CADR), English, and History as well as undergraduate majors in Art, Communication, CADR, English, Environmental Studies, French, History, Interdisciplinary Studies, International Studies, Music, Philosophy, Political Science, Psychology, Sociology, Spanish, and Theatre. There is an existing administrative structure in place to support this new program. The proposed program was vetted and approved by the Chair of the Department of Communication, the Fulton School Curriculum Committee, the Dean of the Fulton School, the Graduate Council, and the Provost, indicating their support of the new program offering.
   b. Continuation of the program for a period of time sufficient to allow enrolled students to complete the program: SU is committed to support this program with sufficient time for enrolled students to complete the program. Our goal to establish this new graduate offering is driven by the strategic goals listed previously and to increase workforce-related offerings to our students. To accomplish these strategic goals and maintain educational quality in the Fulton School of Liberal Arts, support of this program and its students through graduation is essential.

B. Critical and Compelling Regional or Statewide Need as Identified in the State Plan

1. Demonstrate demand and need for the program in terms of meeting present and future needs of the region and the State in general based on one or more of the following:
   a) The need for the advancement and evolution of knowledge
   b) Societal needs, including expanding educational opportunities and choices for minority and educationally disadvantaged students at institutions of higher education
   c) The need to strengthen and expand the capacity of historically black institutions to provide high quality and unique educational programs

The demand for public communication professionals in our region is immediate, growing, sustainable, and financially lucrative. The proposed graduate program will meet this need for trained, working professionals by providing the state’s diverse cohort of students the academic foundations and real-world training needed to best fill these jobs; Eastern Shore graduates who can critically analyze data and present the information empirically and pragmatically to the public. To achieve this, our students need the critical knowledge base to comprehend, navigate, and professionally engage with today’s communication demands in advanced, innovative, and insightful ways.
The proposed program also answers a student need for advanced communication training for current SU undergraduate students. The department is confident that many public communication-oriented undergraduates at SU who aspire to a post-graduate program would welcome the addition of an advanced degree in public communication. This interest extends to current communication students and students pursuing other undergraduate degrees at SU. To address this interest, the department will offer matriculated undergraduates an accelerated master’s program, which allows students the opportunity to take up to three graduate courses during their undergraduate years to count toward both their undergraduate and graduate degree programs.

2. Provide evidence that the perceived need is consistent with the Maryland State Plan for Postsecondary Education

The Communication Department is dedicated to actively recruiting, retaining, and serving Maryland’s minority communities in accordance with COMAR 13B.02.03.05. Specifically, the program addresses a statewide need to: (1) ensure expanded and equal educational opportunities for all Marylanders, (2) answer students’ career trajectory demands by providing long-term graduate educational opportunities (see Maryland State Plan for Postsecondary Education) and (3) expand educational opportunities and choices for minority and educationally disadvantaged students at institutions of higher education.

C. Quantifiable and Reliable Evidence and Documentation of Market Supply and Demand in the Region and State:

1. Describe potential industry or industries, employment opportunities, and expected level of entry (ex: mid-level management) for graduates of the proposed program: Public communication professionals include public relations practitioners in the athletic, health care, commercial, and public affairs/political arenas.

2. Present data and analysis projecting market demand and the availability of openings in a job market to be served by the new program: According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, employment of public communication professionals is projected to rise 11% from 2020-2030. Projections indicate a need for nearly 30,000 public communication professionals per year for at least the next decade - a rate faster than any other occupation. Labor statistics also show, geographically, the New York-Washington, DC corridor employs the largest number of public communication specialists in the country and with the highest annual mean income (topping out at over $100,000 per year).

3. Discuss and provide evidence of market surveys that clearly provide quantifiable and reliable data on the educational and training needs and the anticipated number of vacancies expected over the next 5 years: The Maryland Department of Labor’s Occupational Projections (2020-2030) indicate ~9% increase in workforce demand for Media and Communications and Public Relations. As noted above, the demand for public communication professionals in our region is immediate, growing, sustainable, and financially lucrative.

4. Provide data showing the current and projected supply of prospective graduates: It is anticipated that the proposed Public Communication M.A. degree proposed by SU would enroll ~10 students initially. Enrollment in the program is expected to increase gradually, adding 10, 14, and up to 16 students per year, to eventually reach a target of ~30 students by year five. This assumes a 90% program retention rate for fulltime students who are expected to graduate after two years (and 50% retention rate of part-time students). Similar programs at other institutions for which data was publicly available have a range of enrollments from 15 students at similarly sized or smaller institutions to over 180 at large universities (e.g., University of Georgia).

D. Reasonableness of Program Duplication

1. Identify similar programs in the State and/or same geographical area. Discuss similarities and differences between the proposed program and others in the same degree to be awarded.

In Maryland, there are only three similar campus-based Master of Arts programs and none in SU’s geographical region. Those institutions are Bowie State University, Towson University, and Notre Dame of Maryland. There are several online-only master’s programs offered by Maryland schools: Stevenson University, University of Maryland Global Campus, and Loyola University. Two of those online-only programs offer Master of Science degrees - not Master of Arts. The third, Loyola University, offers a Master of Arts in Emerging Media, but that program focuses on the use of innovative media tools rather than mass media analysis and research.

As the Communication Department’s Master of Arts in Public Communication will be a predominantly on-campus program, albeit offering various course delivery modalities, a comparison with the state’s three campus-based programs is warranted.

Bowie State University is geographically the closest to SU. The school’s Master of Arts in Organizational Communication is designed to train students to be organizational communication leaders in corporate, non-profit, and governmental organizations, or to pursue doctorate-level studies in human communication. Although this program is similar in aspirations to produce corporate and governmental leaders, it does not include training in health communication and athletic communication, two rapidly expanding and in-demand industries.

Notre Dame of Maryland University’s Master of Arts in Contemporary Communication is described as providing students a diverse mix of experiences and skills in contemporary communication theory, creative communication strategies, and visual communication competencies. In comparison to the proposed program, Notre Dame focuses more on the creative elements of the industry and does not focus on community-engaged, practical experiences, the hallmark of SU’s programs, including the proposed M.A. in Public Communication.

Towson University’s master’s program is the furthest away geographically from SU’s M.A. in Public Communication. Towson’s program focuses on researching, designing, implementing, and assessing communication strategies in organizational settings. Its graduate program follows more traditional research-based programs and lacks the applied research focus of the proposed M.A. in Public Communication.

It is important to note, the programs compared above are in the Washington-Baltimore geographical region. With these existing programs in relative proximity to one another, it appears SU’s proposed M.A. in Public Communication, many miles from the nearest program, can successfully find its niche and serve the needs of many Marylanders.

2. Provide justification for the proposed program.

Employment of public communication professionals is one of the fastest growing professions in the country with projections to rise over 10% over the next decade. This equates to nearly 30,000 public communication professionals hired every year, boasting salaries that top out at over $100,000 per year.
The demand for public communication professionals in our region is constant, growing, and financially lucrative. The Communication Department is excited to offer a program that meets the demand for public communication professionals with strong foundational skills and focused track instruction. The program allows both the flexibility to shift delivery modalities easily from in-person to hybrid courses and to support expanding interest areas (e.g., environmental communication). Additionally, the program will welcome and support degree-holders from other disciplines and working professionals who wish to extend their academic credentials.

E. Relevance to High-demand Programs at Historically Black Institutions (HBIs):

1. Discuss the program’s potential impact on the implementation or maintenance of high-demand programs at HBI’s.

The Communication Department’s proposed Public Communication program will not negatively impact Maryland’s HBI’s and will serve Maryland’s minority communities. For example, by offering a complementary post-graduate program for the state’s historically black institutions (HBIs), the program can address a stated statewide need to: (1) ensure expanded and equal educational opportunities for all Marylanders; (2) answer students’ career trajectory demands by providing long-term graduate educational opportunities as outlined in the latest Maryland State Plan for Postsecondary Education; and (3) expand educational opportunities and choices for minority and educationally disadvantaged students at institutions of higher education as required by Maryland’s COMAR 13B.02.03.05.

As examples, the M.A. in Public Communication dovetails nicely with undergraduate programs at both Morgan State University and the University of Maryland Eastern Shore. These programs include undergraduate programs of study that provide foundational training that complements the proposed M.A. in Public Communication.

F. Relevance to the identity of Historically Black Institutions (HBIs): As noted above, the proposed program is not anticipated to compete with similar programs at HBIs or negatively impact them in any way.

G. Adequacy of Curriculum Design, Program Modality, and Related Learning Outcomes: (as outlined in COMAR 13B.02.03.10)

1. Describe how the proposed program was established, and also describe the faculty who will oversee the program.

The proposed program’s origins stem from stated needs by industry professionals for highly trained public communication professionals and a faculty desire to address that need. The program’s structure is derived from successful programs around the nation. The focus on civic engagement and experiential learning reflects Salisbury University’s mission and the faculty’s expertise in applied learning. As mentioned earlier, the department’s award-winning faculty scholars will offer a combination of research-and industry-focused mentoring, real-life engagement, in-depth scholarly discussions, and practical training. The program will prepare the next generation of communication professionals and scholars to shape the post-pandemic twenty-first century world and produce thoughtful scholars and innovative industry leaders.

2. Describe educational objectives and learning outcomes appropriate to the rigor, breadth, and (modality) of the program.

The educational objectives and intended student learning outcomes of the program are to:

- Develop skills to analyze and evaluate research methods and their use in professional settings.
• Understand communication theories and ways to apply them in personal and professional contexts.

• Apply critical thinking skills from prior experiences, then learn to utilize, analyze, and contribute to leading research in the field.

• Produce scholarly, professional, and creative materials that showcase student knowledge in a specific area of communication.

Due to the community-engaged nature of the program, courses will be taught on a traditional 15-week semester. The program will initially be offered as traditional in-person classes. However, the program’s foundational courses may later transition to an online delivery, except for the hands-on course Advanced Media Literacy (COMM 502) where access to university-supplied equipment is needed. Graduate courses taught in tandem with undergraduate courses will match modalities, but the graduate courses can later transition to, for example, hybrid courses.

3. Explain how the institution will: a) provide assessment of student achievement of learning outcomes in the program; b) document student achievement of learning outcomes in the program

a) SU strives to build and maintain a solid assessment process of student learning at the course, program, and institutional levels. SU’s University Analysis, Reporting and Assessment (UARA) provides official student data and facilitates the collection and presentation of data for Academic Program Reports (APR) on a seven-year cycle. These APRs formalize the assessment of student learning outcomes to drive programmatic decision-making. Within the Communication program, faculty connect learning outcomes and objectives to specific required courses. Thus, course-level outcomes and performance can be used to assess student achievement.

b) At the end of each academic year, the program will assess the extent to which learning outcomes are achieved by each student in the program. Modifications to classes or other adjustments may be made in response to areas where learning outcomes are not consistently achieved.

4. Provide a list of courses with title, semester credit hours and course descriptions, along with a description of program requirements.

The proposed M.A. degree in Public Communication will allow students to focus their studies on a variety of communication topics including health, corporate, athletics, or public affairs. The multi-focus option allows students to specialize in one area of communication. Courses will be taught in various modalities and at times convenient for the working professional.

The Public Communication program will require students to complete 36 credit hours of coursework. Students must take four foundational core courses (12 hours). Students then complete 12 hours from analytical and applied interdisciplinary electives and 9 hours in their specialized area of interest. Finally, the student completes a 3-hour capstone by completing a scholarly thesis, a community-engaged independent study, or an internship. All require completion of a comprehensive exam. (See Appendix I for the degree checklist and Appendix II for course descriptions).

5. Discuss how general education requirements will be met, if applicable: Students will be undergraduate degree-holding scholars or, in the accelerated master’s program, will have completed general education requirements completed.
6. Identify any specialized accreditation or graduate certification Requirements for this program and its students: There are no specialized accreditation or graduate certification requirements for this program’s students.

7. Contracting with another Institution: The proposed program will not contract with another institution or non-collegiate organization.

8. Provide assurance and any appropriate evidence that the proposed program will provide students with clear, complete, and timely information on the curriculum, course and degree requirements, nature of faculty/student interaction, assumptions about technology competence and skills, technical equipment requirements, learning management systems, availability of academic support services and financial aid resources, and costs and payment policies.

Upon approval, the program curriculum, courses, degree requirements, Department of Communication and Fulton School of Liberal Arts webpages, and SU undergraduate academic catalog will be updated clearly, completely, and in a timely manner. Approval of the Public Communication M.A. program will be communicated in a timely manner to the appropriate offices on campus by the program director in collaboration with the Office of Graduate Studies. All publications, including marketing, catalog and website admissions pages are vetted by the Marketing and Communications Department at SU, which fact-checks all submissions.

9. Provide assurance and any appropriate evidence that advertising, recruiting, and administration materials will clearly and accurately represent the proposed program and the services available.

The program will be clearly and accurately represented in advertising, recruiting, and admissions materials.

H. Adequacy of Articulation: This is a graduate program.

I. Adequacy of Faculty Resources (COMAR 13B.02.03.11) and Faculty List

1. Provide a brief narrative demonstrating the quality of program faculty. Include a summary list of faculty with appointment type, terminal degree title and field, academic title/rank, status (full-time, part-time, adjunct) and the course(s) each faculty will teach in the proposed program.

   SU’s Communication Department’s faculty consists of distinguished professors, award-winning educators, prolific researchers, and nationally and internationally recognized scholars. The depth and breadth of the faculty’s expertise results in outstanding training for skilled practitioners to enter the field or follow-on doctoral students. Appendix III lists information about each faculty member.

2. Demonstrate how the institution will provide the ongoing pedagogy training for faculty in evidenced-based best practices, including training in:

   a. Pedagogy Meets Needs of Students: SU’s Center for the Advancement of Faculty Excellence (CAFÉ) supports faculty in the areas of teaching, research, professional development and personal wellness and the office of Instructional Design & Delivery (ID&D) provides professional development for effective pedagogical practices and instructional support for faculty engaged in teaching and learning of online, hybrid and traditional courses. Collaboratively, these offices provide various, ongoing webinars, workshops, faculty learning communities, and initiatives around andragogical and pedagogical best practices. These include:
1) CAFÉ provides support in the following areas: Teaching and Pedagogy; Research and Scholarship; Professional Development; and Personal Wellness.

2) The Office of Instructional Design and Delivery (ID&D) offers multiple avenues of training. In-person workshops are offered for Canvas and drop-in sessions are also offered regularly. Topics covered include Applying the Quality Matters Rubric; Using Open Educational Resources; and “Soaring with Online Learning” which is held during the summer and winter sessions.

3) ID&D also offers regular seminars and trainings throughout the year related to the use of a variety of technology tools and platforms to enhance teaching and learning including webinars in Student Engagement and Instructor Presence; Flipping the Classroom; Using Technology to Enhance the Classroom Experience; and the Fair Use Act.

4) ID&D also distributes a weekly newsletter which contains information regarding upcoming activities (teaching podcasts), deadlines, and resources.

5) The University’s Office of Academic Affairs sponsors an annual Faculty Development Day (fall) and Teaching and Learning Conference (spring).

6) Faculty in the Fulton School of Liberal Arts are encouraged to apply for professional development funds and compete for annual faculty development awards. Awarded funds can be used for a variety of professional development activities. Opportunities for professional development, such as supported conference attendance, are also offered regularly by the Fulton School.

b. the learning management system: Instructional Design & Delivery provides support for the campus learning management system (Canvas) and other instructional software (such as lecture capture, audience response system) through workshops, video tips, and how-to instructions.

c. evidenced-based best practices for distance education, if distance education is offered: The M.A. in Public Communication will not be fully offered via distance education given the community-engaged nature of the program. However, as appropriate, several courses may be developed as online or hybrid courses. All Communication faculty have completed SU’s SOARING program, a multi-week program to prepare faculty to design, develop and deliver courses in a fully online or hybrid environment through the campus course management system, Canvas.

J. Adequacy of Library Resources: The Patricia A. Guerrieri Academic Commons (GAC) was recently named among the top 10 academic libraries in the country and functions as an integral component of the University’s academic programs through an organized structure which embraces public and technical services. As a member of USMAI (University System of Maryland and Affiliated Institutions) consortium, the library is affiliated with the USM’s twelve campuses and seventeen libraries for the purpose of sharing library resources. The integrated, comprehensive library system, ALEPH makes it possible for our patrons to have 24/7 access to USMAI library collections and electronic resources.

SU Libraries have existing resources to comprehensively support the proposed degree program. In relation to journal and newspaper articles, SU has several relevant titles through electronic access via our online database subscriptions, including (but not limited to): Academic Search Complete; Business Source Premier; EconLit; JSTO; ProQuest Newspapers; Science Direct; and Web of Science. Regarding monographic titles, SU has a significant number of titles that would support this major and is frequently adding more. SU’s ability to share resources within the USM system will also greatly support our students in the rare occasion that we might not have the exact title in-house that they would want or need, and these students would generally gain access to that title within the same week they requested it. In sum, no new library resources are directly required to support the proposed M.A. in Public Communication.
K. Adequacy of Physical Facilities, infrastructure, and equipment (COMAR 13B.02.03.13): SU houses outstanding media facilities and its infrastructure already serves the demands of undergraduates and graduate students on campus and in classrooms around the globe. The Communication Department has access to SU’s state-of-the-art Integrated Media Center (IMC). The IMC has a high-definition production studio, a high-definition news studio, an audio recording studio, thirteen non-linear video editing suites, and nine audio editing suites. In addition, the department has created a multi-use news laboratory featuring an integrated, industry-standard news production management system, and an innovative public relations learning laboratory. SU also houses Delmarva Public Media with its three NPR-affiliated radio stations. These facilities are used by students studying, as examples, public relations, multimedia journalism, as well as political, athletic, and health communication disciplines. The University’s facilities can serve the proposed graduate program today and as enrollments increase.

While fully online instruction is initially not envisioned for this program, SU has both an institutional electronic mailing system and a learning management system, Canvas. All students and faculty are given an SU email to utilize for all university correspondence. All faculty are given training on the LMS through Instructional Design & Delivery (ID&D). In addition, the IT Help Desk provides technical support to students who need assistance navigating their courses within the LMS or accessing e-mail.

M. Adequacy of Provisions for Evaluation of Program

SU and the programs within the Fulton School of Liberal Arts have a long tradition of assessment. At SU, University Analysis, Reporting and Assessment (UARA) provides official student data, including enrollment, retention, and graduation rates. UARA provides this data annually to each specific school or department. To track the measures for all academic programs and offerings, the Office of the Registrar assigns a unique code to all specified student population groups.

Course evaluations occur each semester through the student evaluation of instruction, which is an online, anonymous survey. This assessment evaluates faculty on teaching skills and dispositions. Faculty evaluations occur through annual faculty evaluations by the Department Chair, evaluations as part of the Promotion and Tenure Review Process, and the Post Tenure Review Process (every five years after tenure). Once a year, tenure-track faculty complete the annual faculty evaluation report which includes goals for the year, as well as achievements in the areas of teaching, scholarship, and service. In the Tenure & Promotion and Post-Tenure Review processes, faculty are assessed for their contributions in the areas of teaching, scholarship, and service.

Student learning outcomes are based on key assessments in major courses, which will include a comprehensive exam, writing-intensive assignments, practical exams (demonstration of proficiency in certain skills), and/or other assessments.

Each academic program undergoes a full review every seven years which includes an internal evaluation as well as a report by an external reviewer.

N. Consistency with the State’s Minority Student Achievement Goals:

The Communication Department will actively recruit minority students. The public communication industry suffers from a lack of diversity among its ranks. The industry recognizes the problem and lists minority hiring, training, and retention as top priorities. A 2021 analysis by a coalition of public communication professionals, called the New Diversity Action Alliance, found only 21% of public communication professionals are racially or ethnically diverse. A 2018 report by The Harvard Business Review recommends the industry prioritize “[fostering] relationships with colleges to build a pipeline of [minority] talent.”

The 2020 U.S. Census indicates that Maryland is majority diverse. Statistics indicate 29.5% of Marylanders are Black or African American, 6.8% are Asian, and 6% are Hispanic. Considering a 2018 survey found over 70% of college students study at an institution near their residence, Delmarva Peninsula counties account for the 2nd and 3rd highest concentrations of Hispanics and the 4th, 6th and 7th largest concentrations of Black and African Americans in the state. By actively recruiting among these minority populations, the Communication Department’s graduate program both satisfies a state-wide demand to focus on and train minorities and responds to a recognized industry demand for, and access to, a pipeline of well-trained minority public communication professionals.
The program will offer choices in delivery methods, including in-person, evening classes at SU’s campus in Salisbury, and online courses. All these options ensure that the program is accessible to students who are balancing school with other life commitments, including work and caretaking demands.

O. Relationship to Low Productivity Programs Identified by the Commission: The proposed concentration is not related to an identified low productivity program.

P. Adequacy of Distance Education Programs (as outlined in COMAR 13B.02.93.22):

1. Provide affirmation and any appropriate evidence that the institution is eligible to provide distance education: SU is approved to provide distance education courses by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education.

2. Provide assurance and any appropriate evidence that the institution complies with the C-RAC guidelines: As an institution, SU is committed to ensuring that all online-related education offerings are designed and reviewed using the Quality Matters rubric. Quality Matters (QM) is a nationally recognized peer-review process designed to foster on-going faculty-centered improvement of online education. Instructional Design & Delivery conducts the Soaring with Online Learning program to support best practices in distance education.
Appendix I: M.A. in Public Communication checklist

Brief Summary of the Proposed Program: The public communication program requires students to complete 36 credit hours of coursework. Students must take four foundation core courses (12 hours). Students then complete 12 hours from analytical and applied interdisciplinary electives and 9 hours in their specialized area of interest. Finally, the student completes a 3-hour capstone by completing a scholarly thesis, a community-engaged project, or an internship. Capstones also require completion of a comprehensive exam.

SUMMARY: Salisbury University proposes to transition its existing Office of Graduate Studies and Research to a Graduate School and a separate Office of Research and Sponsored Programs. This proposal is the result of ten years of exploration and study. The goals of the change are to facilitate branding of graduate programs, improve consistency in administrative and assessment processes, and provide more support for graduate students, as well as external stakeholders. The change would be consistent with what peer institutions have done.

Because the creation of schools or colleges generally entails additional administrative structures and related costs, the Regents must approve such actions as per USM III-7.05 Policy on the Creation/Development by University System of Maryland (USM) Institutions of Schools or Colleges. The policy requires institutions to submit to the Board of Regents a proposal that addresses five elements, which are aligned with the numbered sections of the attached proposal. In this case, the transition of the existing administrative unit to a graduate school will incur one-time, relatively modest re-branding costs that can be absorbed internally. The current Office of Graduate Studies and Research already has a dean and two support staff. Growth may in time incur additional costs, but these are expected and will be part of overall planning.

It should be noted that at this time, there is no name attached to the proposed graduate school that would fall under USM VI-4.00 Policy on the Naming of Facilities and Programs. Also, the university shall submit an update in two years consistent with USM III-7.05.

ALTERNATIVE(S): The Regents may not approve the proposal or may request further information.

FISCAL IMPACT: No additional funds are required.

CHANCELLOR’S RECOMMENDATION: That the Education Policy and Student Life and Safety Committee recommend that the Board of Regents approve the proposal from Salisbury University to create a graduate school.
Proposal to Create a Graduate School at Salisbury University

Submitted the University System of Maryland Board of Regents
November 2023

Introduction

Salisbury University (SU) proposes to transition its Office of Graduate Studies and Research to a Graduate School and a separate Office of Research and Sponsored Programs. This transition would not require the creation of new academic programs, but rather, would elevate existing administrative functions and allow for “branding” of enhanced graduate program development. There was support for the creation of a Graduate School in late 2019, but that was understandably derailed by the pandemic. However, during President Carolyn Ringer Lepre's State of the University address in Spring 2023, she urged our campus to "revisit the proposal for establishing a new school for graduate studies."

Additional support for a centralized graduate school model is stated by the Council of Graduate Schools in its publication, The Organization and Administration of Graduate Education-A Guide for University Leaders, “Universities also need to carefully consider other benefits offered by a central graduate school, which if run well, can improve the institution’s reputation, enhance its programs and visibility, and increase its enrollments”.

The bylaws of the Board of Regents for the University System of Maryland (Section III-7.05: Policy on the Creation/Development by University System of Maryland Institutions of Schools or Colleges) require the proposing institution submit a narrative addressing the following areas for creation of a new school or college:

1. Decision-making process involved
2. Rationale for creation of the new school
3. Mission statement for proposed school
4. Proposed administrative structure and resources needed
5. Faculty resources in place.

Each of these requirements is addressed below including proposed outcomes within the rational section.

1. Decision-making process involved

   Over the course of several years, the process leading to this updated proposal has been open and deliberative. The idea originated with the development of SU’s 2014-2019 Strategic Plan by the Graduate Council faculty, and was presented at open forums, to Faculty Senate, and to the Executive Staff. Appendix I provides a detailed account of actions since 2013.

2. Rationale for creation of a Graduate School

   Salisbury University is recognized for excellence as a regional comprehensive university. An important component of our excellence is graduate education. By creating a Graduate School, Salisbury University will achieve the following outcomes:

   A Graduate School will help bolster our efforts to grow graduate enrollment. The growth in graduate enrollment is part of a key strategic initiative for SU and adds a much-needed additional revenue growth option. Creation of a Graduate School will help facilitate this growth by branding graduate education as an essential component of our regional comprehensive university mission. This will improve our ability to develop and improve comprehensive marketing strategies for our graduate programs. Graduate enrollment growth was highlighted by President Lepre as part of her State of the University address in...
Spring of 2023. The President challenged our campus to grow back to 8,500 students, “with a target of graduate students making up 12% of the University’s student population by 2028”.

A Graduate School will align Salisbury University with our peers and enhance rankings. It is important for Salisbury University to maintain and bolster reputational excellence. External perception of Salisbury University as a high-quality academic institution is enhanced by creating a Graduate School, which helps our rankings.

Additionally, forming a Graduate School will align SU with many of our peer institutions, aspirational peers, and other University System of Maryland schools. Appendix II provides information from 20 of these institutions. Currently, 13 of these institutions have either a school or college dedicated to graduate programs.

A Graduate School will bolster graduate program presence and identity while providing a greater sense of belonging to graduate students. As a regional comprehensive university, SU is known for excellence in undergraduate education. Additionally, SU offers several professional programs and traditional graduate educational opportunities. Our undergraduate students find their “home” in majors, organizations, or other affinity groups, and benefit from built-in support systems. While the Graduate Student Council is an effective advocacy group for graduate students at SU, there can be loss of identity for graduate students. Outside of their specific programs, where do graduate students belong? The Graduate School will give them an immediate place to find a sense of belonging. From there, additional support systems and partners can be forged to reinforce these efforts and align with the needs of this distinct community of learners.

While the academic home for each graduate program should continue to be located within corresponding academic departments, schools, and college, adding a specific administrative identity for graduate education further enhances excellence for SU graduate programs and provides a definitive sense of connection and recognition.

A Graduate School will elevate accountability and equitable standards for graduate education. The Graduate School will provide a more institution-wide, interdisciplinary perspective to graduate education at SU, leading to a stronger culture supporting graduate research and scholarship. By establishing a strong framework and support system for the leaders and staff working in graduate programs, the Graduate School will lead the development of additional quality controls and good practices. The Graduate School will provide consistency throughout graduate program application, admissions, and administrative processes while helping to ensure consistent and effective program assessment and management. Assessment and continuously improved outcomes are paramount for successful graduate programs. Strong, deliberative and effective graduate program assessment will be led by the Graduate School in partnership with the home academic departments and schools/college.

A Graduate School will strengthen our ability to address workforce needs. The addition of the Graduate School will allow SU to more intentionally help meet the workforce needs of our region and state by introducing specialized training programs, fostering strategic industry partnerships, promoting research and innovation initiatives, providing alternative credentials, enhancing career services, and supporting entrepreneurship initiatives within graduate education. This comprehensive approach ensures that SU graduates are not only academically prepared but also equipped with the practical skills and industry connections necessary to thrive in the evolving regional job market.

A Graduate School will present new opportunities. Creation of the Graduate School will demonstrate commitment to external stakeholders and present additional friend-raising and fundraising opportunities. The Graduate School expands on the already respected SU brand and provides an additional avenue for donors to contribute to SU. Additionally, the potential for growing doctoral education and advancing our Carnegie Classification status will be reinforced by having a Graduate School. As a recognized separate administrative unit, the Graduate School will establish an external advisory board that can help grow fundraising opportunities and support strategic planning efforts.

3. Proposed mission statement for the graduate school

The Graduate School provides administrative oversight and leadership for high-quality graduate programs that prepare and advance students for productive careers as professionals. SU's graduate programs offer U.S. and international holders of bachelor's and master's degrees opportunities for exceptional advanced professional and personal enrichment. The graduate curriculum is designed to assist students in attaining greater mastery of their fields of specialization, improving skills in pursuing independent study, and increasing professional knowledge and ability through the study of new findings in areas of special interest. The Graduate School will be the administrative home of the graduate faculty who devote mentoring and teaching excellence to graduate students.

4. Proposed administrative structure and necessary resources

A Dean of the Graduate School and Research and two support staff are currently in place within the Office of Graduate Studies at SU. There is a strong partnership with Undergraduate Admissions, including collaboration on our newly acquired CRM/application tools in Slate. To begin the Graduate School, additional support from Graduate Assistants and realigned staff job duties may be necessary. As the Graduate School grows, additional staff support may be required to further focus and elevate graduate student enrollment management, graduate student records management, and graduate support services under the leadership of the Graduate School.

Reasonable budget realignments are necessary for successfully creating a Graduate School. Currently, approximately $50K is spent annually on marketing and recruiting by the Office of Graduate Studies. An additional $25K annually can be redirected internally for graduate marketing and recruiting. There is a strong partnership with the Marketing and Communications office already in place, providing specific resources for graduate marketing. A strong Graduate School model will help solidify the opportunities to market more effectively.

While re-branding (website, printed materials, banners, etc.) for the Graduate School would require an estimated additional $20-25K, these are viewed as one-time expenses that can be absorbed internally as well.

5. Faculty Resources

As this proposal does not create or change the academic home of any programs, the faculty resources are currently in place to meet expected student demand. Currently, there are 300+ members of the Graduate Faculty at SU. Many of these faculty are in departments and schools that currently have graduate programs. However, as some graduate programs (especially Doctoral programs) mature and demand grows, the graduate program portfolio also will evolve. As it does, faculty numbers may need to grow, and additional future needs will be addressed accordingly.
APPENDIX I: Timeline of the decision-making process

Fall 2013 Semester – Initial Development
As part of the development of Salisbury University’s 2014-2019 Strategic Plan, there were numerous discussions about exploring the creation of a School of Graduate Studies. This idea was included in the plan.

Fall 2016 – Graduate Council Actively Engages
The SU Graduate Council (GC) began discussions to actively consider creation of a School of Graduate Studies and a sub-committee was appointed to conduct a thorough review of options and SWOT analyses.

Spring 2017 – Graduate Council Sub-Committee Completes Analysis and Report
At the April Graduate Council meeting, GC votes to send forward the report to Faculty Senate.

Spring 2017 – Faculty Senate Approves Further Exploration and Proposal Development
Faculty Senate votes to move forward with development of full proposal to be submitted to Faculty Senate for future consideration.

Fall 2017 – Proposal Developed
A proposal was drafted by the Chair of the Graduate Council, Dean of Graduate Studies and Research, and the Associate Provost for further consideration by the campus.

Fall 2017-Spring 2018 – Campus Discussion
The proposal was submitted to the Faculty Senate and a campus-wide open forum was held to fully discuss the creation of a School of Graduate Studies. There was wide-spread support for the school. However, with the pending change in Presidency, the process was put on hold.

Spring/Fall 2019 – Process RE-initiated - Graduate Council and Faculty Senate
The proposal was updated and supported unanimously by the Graduate Council. On March 26, 2019 the Faculty Senate passed the following motion:

Although the Senate is not ready to endorse a Graduate School at this time, we are sympathetic to the needs of graduate programs within the university and are requesting that the administration investigate alternatives for meeting those needs.

That the Faculty Senate acknowledge receipt of the Graduate Council’s report concerning the feasibility of creating a Graduate School at Salisbury University.

Further, the Faculty Senate encourages the SU administration to explore ways to provide support for the identified needs for graduate programs including, but not limited to, marketing, recruitment, admissions, registration, and increased enrollment in current and future graduate programs.

At a minimum, there was a consensus that Graduate Programs at Salisbury University needed enhanced support.

Spring 2020 – Pandemic put a hold on all consideration for creating the Graduate School.

Spring 2023 - Salisbury University State of the University Address
Salisbury University President, Dr. Carolyn Lepre encourages campus to reconsider creation of a Graduate School during her State of the University address.
Summer 2023 – Graduate Council and Faculty Senate Discussions
The incoming Chair of the Graduate Council, Dr. Doug DeWitt met with Faculty Senate leadership to discuss bringing an updated proposal forward. There was agreement to proceed.

September 2023 – Graduate Council Re-visits Proposal
The current updated version of the proposal to create a Graduate School at Salisbury University is discussed at Graduate Council (with Provost and Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs, Dr. Laurie Couch, present). There is a unanimous approval and decision to move the proposal forward to Faculty Senate.

October 2023 – Faculty Senate Consideration of Motion
During the October 10, 2023 Faculty Senate meeting, a motion to approve and move forward the proposal to create a Graduate School at Salisbury University was presented to the Faculty Senate by the Graduate Council’s Faculty Senate representative. Following discussion, the Faculty Senate voted to approve and forward the proposal for creation of a Graduate School at Salisbury University.

November 2023 – Provost approval
On November 6, 2023 the Provost approved the proposal to create a Graduate School.

III - 7.05 - POLICY ON THE CREATION/DEVELOPMENT BY UNIVERSITY SYSTEM OF MARYLAND INSTITUTIONS OF SCHOOLS OR COLLEGES

(Approved by the Board of Regents, February 10, 2006)

Among the responsibilities of the Board of Regents articulated in the governance legislation that created the University System of Maryland is the following statement:

12-104 (C) The Board of Regents (1) is responsible for the management of the University System of Maryland and has all the powers, rights, and privileges that go with that responsibility, including the power to conduct or maintain any institutions, schools, or departments in the University at the locations the Board determines;

While the Board of Regents has delegated to the institutions authority for the creation of academic departments or the changing of department or college names, the creation of new schools or colleges within an institution, usually involves the creation of additional administrative structures, increased staffing requirements, and increased infrastructure costs, and may suggest a change in mission emphasis.

Therefore, in order for the Board to fulfill its responsibilities under the law, it is the policy of the University System of Maryland that any institution proposing the creation of a new school or college, regardless of whether such an action involves the development of new academic programs, shall submit a proposal to the Chancellor for consideration by the Board. This requirement for Board review and approval shall apply even if the creation of the new school or college is accomplished through the reallocation of existing resources and the realignment of existing academic departments.

The proposal should include the following elements.

- Rationale/need for creation of the new school or college;
- Decision-making process involved, role played by various stakeholders;

- Mission statement for proposed school or college, and description of how the new entity relates to the approved mission of the institution;

- Description of proposed administrative structure, including current and eventual departments, staffing, organization chart; and

- Faculty resources now in place.

Approximately two years after initial Board approval, the institution shall provide to the Chancellor for submission to the Board a status report on the new school or college. That report shall include the following elements.

- Strategic plan for the school or college;

- Planned changes to faculty resources (five year projections);

- Five-year budget projections (revenue and expenditure detail);

- Program development and modification plans, if any; and;

- Enrollment projections for programs within the new school or college, if applicable.

It is understood that the approval by the Board of Regents of a new school or college in no way implies approval of new academic degree programs. Additions to the program inventory that will be housed in the new school or college must be made through the regular new program approval process.

1 The terms "college" and "school" are used interchangeably to designate an administrative or operational unit of the university, generally comprising departments in related disciplines, which carries out teaching, research, and scholarship functions. A school or college normally is headed by a senior administrative official who holds the title of "dean."
TOPIC: Civic Education and Community Engagement

COMMITTEE: Education Policy and Student Life and Safety

DATE OF COMMITTEE MEETING: Tuesday, January 16, 2024

SUMMARY: In May 2018, the Board of Regents received the final report of the USM Workgroup on Civic Education and Civic Engagement and accepted the recommendations of that workgroup. The recommendations included:

• Establish a USM Civic Learning and Democratic Engagement Workgroup as an ongoing USM workgroup with responsibility for defining goals, developing, and analyzing System-wide progress toward those goals.
  o Foster an ethos of civic engagement and participation across all parts of all institutions and through the educational culture.
  o Expand opportunities for civic learning and engagement throughout coursework and through community leadership programs.
• Encourage Carnegie Community Engagement classification for all institutions in USM.
• Encourage Voting by using the National Study of Learning Voting and Engagement (NSLVE data) to document and assess progress toward higher voter participation from each institution.

Since then, USM has pursued all five of those recommendations. This report summarizes this year’s progress in the following areas:

• Civic Education and Community Engagement Council
• USM Student Civic Leaders Committee
• National Study of Learning Voting and Engagement
• Langenberg Legacy Fellowship Program
• Civic Education and Civic Engagement Symposium
• Civic Education and Civic Engagement Institutional Grants

The committee will also discuss ideas surrounding civic education-related courses and course requirements.

Education Policy and Student Life
January 16, 2024

The most significant development this year has been the establishment of a new USM Council, the Civic Education and Community Engagement Council (CECE), which will assume responsibility for sustaining the civic learning and democracy engagement work that is endorsed in the USM Strategic Plan, Vision 2030. With the establishment of this new Council, USM now has a leadership group that can help prioritize, elevate, assess, and report on the civic education and engagement elements of Vision 2030. The council’s charge is attached to this report.

On November 3, 2023, USM hosted our third Civic Education and Civic Engagement Symposium at Towson University. U.S. Senator Ben Cardin was the keynote speaker, and Secretary Paul Monteiro, Maryland Department of Service and Civic Innovation, inspired an audience of over 200 participants from every USM institution to think about the broadest responsibilities of public higher education: educating for democracy. The Civic Education and Civic Engagement Symposium summary and agenda are attached to this report.

The Carnegie Foundation’s Elective Classification for Community Engagement is a way for Colleges and Universities in the US to gain recognition for institutionalizing community engagement. Campuses must apply for the classification, which is offered every 2 years. This year USM offered one-time incentives (up to $10,000) to every university working toward that goal. The request for proposals issued to the universities is included in this report.

In addition to the financial incentives to support Carnegie Community Engagement Classification, USM also offered universities one-time seed funding ($19,000) to initiate or continue to work on integrating civic learning and democracy engagement across the curriculum. The request for proposals issued to the universities is included in this report.

We are now in the second year of the Langenberg Legacy Fellowship Program (academic year 2023–2024). This year’s fellows conceived and implemented a variety of community engagement and civic education projects that have the potential to change lives. These extraordinary students came to their projects before Governor Moore’s election, anticipating his transformative vision for public and community service. A list of this year’s Langenberg Legacy Fellows is attached to this report, and we plan to celebrate them with an event this spring.

USM also convenes the USM Student Civic Leaders Committee (SCLC), co-chaired this year by Musa Jafri (UMBC) and Rachel Michalski (FSU). Every USM university has student representatives on this committee, the President of the USMSC and the two Student Regents serving as ex-officio members. This year, the committee contributed to the planning of the system-wide Symposium, and the co-chairs participated in the student panel, moderated by Regent Michelle Gourdine. The SCLC is gearing up to support voter registration, get-out-the-vote activities, and recruiting student poll workers for the upcoming 2024 elections.

All USM institutions participate in the National Study of Learning Voting and Engagement (NSLVE) and USM receives a quadrennial report on the percentages of students on every campus who registers to vote and votes, and the analysis includes a breakdown of demographics so all universities can see their strengths, and where there is room for improvement. When the results of the 2024 election become available, we will share the results with the Board of Regents. A description of NSLVE is attached to this report.

Finally, USM is taking two additional key steps in preparation for the 2024 presidential election. First, USM is in the process of refreshing and updating its “USM Votes!” website. This site previously served as an excellent, system-wide resource in advance of the 2020 presidential election. Furthermore, in December 2023, USM, in conjunction with partners at University of Maryland, College Park, applied for the federal Help America Vote College Program (HAVCP) grant, which is made available by the U.S. Election Assistance Commission. If received, the benefits of HAVCP would be distributed System-wide and assist all USM universities in recruiting, training, and putting poll workers into action at polling places across the state.
Civic Education and Community Engagement Council Charge

The University System of Maryland wishes to establish a standing Council to advance civic education, democracy engagement, community engagement, and service-learning across the system. This standing Council would be responsible for leading and consolidating USM’s commitment to implementing the Regents’ recommendations in the Regent’s Task Force on Civic Education and Democratic Engagement (2018), and the Action Plan developed at the AACU Institute for Engaged and Integrative Learning (2023). Since the USM Strategic Plan, Vision 2030, prioritizes civic learning and democracy engagement this Council will be responsible for annual reports on progress to the Board of Regents.

The CECE Council will support and promote the work of individual institutions’ progress toward the Regents recommendations:

1. Foster an ethos of civic engagement and participation across all parts of all institutions and throughout the educational culture of USM.
2. Identify civic literacy as an expectation for all students.
3. Support and share best practices and explore how institutions can collaborate across the System.
4. Support institutions to develop and implement their Civic Education and Community Engagement implementation plans, which would set forth institution specific goals to strengthen institutional commitment to civic learning and community engagement, including current and future resources as needed.
5. Support institutions to apply for and maintain their Carnegie designation.

Membership

- Each USM institution will identify up to two representatives to serve staggered two-year renewable terms on the USM CECE Council (at least one senior level member).
- The CECE Council will identify co-chairs who will serve rotating and staggered two-year terms.
- The Council will include student representatives from the Student Civic Leaders Committee and the USMSC.
- The Council will be staffed by USM senior staff (Associate Vice Chancellor), who will be responsible for scheduling regular meetings, developing agendas in collaboration with co-chairs, and keeping meeting notes, with necessary follow-up.
Civic Education and Civic Engagement Symposium

On Friday, November 3, 2023, the University System of Maryland Office held its 2023 Symposium on Civic Education and Civic Engagement at Towson University. The event featured remarks from Towson President Mark Ginsberg, in his first week in office; Chancellor Perman; Secretary of Maryland’s Department of Service and Civic Innovation, Paul Monteiro; and Michele W. Johnson, Director of the Maryland 250 Commission; an interview between Towson Vice President for Student Affairs Vernon Hurte and Senator Ben Cardin, senior senator for Maryland; and a moderated panel interview of five USM students, conducted by Regent Michelle Gourdine. The students were Vainavi Gambhir (UMCP), Musa Jafri (UMBC), Jakeya Johnson (BSU), Jayden Johnstone (TU), and Rachael Michalski (FSU).

There were approximately 150 attendees at the Symposium, including 15 students. Each institution was requested to assemble a team to attend the Symposium, including a student representative and campus leaders who oversee and conduct civic engagement-related work on campus.

The program centered on workshop-style sessions co-led by content area experts and members of our USM community. The workshops topics were Carnegie Classification for Community Engagement, Election and Voter Engagement, Integrating Civic Learning across the Curriculum, and Service Learning as a High-Impact Practice. The workshops were intended to be relevant and use-oriented for campus activities, specifically to support applications for seed grants and to help prepare for the upcoming presidential and other elections in 2024.

In October 2023, the USM Office issued a request for proposals to System institutions to apply for one-time grant funds to support applications for Carnegie Classification (Carnegie Classification Incentive Grants) and to support integrating civic education and civic engagement throughout the curriculum (Civic Integration Seed Grants).

The Planning Committee responsible for organizing and planning the Symposium included faculty and staff from several USM institutions and USM Office staff. Representing USM institutions: Paul Brown (Director of Civic Innovation Center, University of Maryland, College Park); Latisha Cooper (Director of Student Engagement, Accessibility, and Learning, Frostburg State University); Roger Hartley (Dean of College of Public Affairs, University of Baltimore); Nicole Marano (Vice President for Student Success and Chief Student Affairs Officer, University of Baltimore); Jared Moffett (Director of Experiential Learning, Bowie State University); Patrick O’Brien (Director of Civic Engagement, Frostburg State University); Alexander “Sandy” Pope (Associate Professor of Education and Director of the Institute for Public Affairs and Civic Engagement, Salisbury University); and Lena Morreale Scott (Director of Civic Education and Engagement Initiative, University of Maryland, College Park). From the USM office: Chair Nancy Shapiro (Associate Vice Chancellor for Education and Outreach); Dewayne Morgan (Senior Director for Education, Outreach, and Pipeline Development); Karen Feagin (P–20 Research and Proposal Coordinator); Nancy O’Neill (Acting Director of the Kirwan Center for Academic Innovation); and Joel Miller (P–20 Graduate Assistant).

FEATURED SPEAKERS

Senator Ben Cardin, Senior United States Senator for Maryland

A third-generation Marylander, Ben Cardin has been a national leader on health care, retirement security, the environment, and fiscal issues while representing the people of Maryland in the U.S. Senate, and before that in the House of Representatives. He has worked across party lines to further U.S. national security and to ensure that good governance, transparency, and respect for human rights are integrated into American foreign policy.

First elected to the Senate in 2006, Senator Cardin currently serves as Chair of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, where he has worked across party lines to further U.S. national security and to ensure that good governance, transparency, and respect for human rights are integrated into American foreign policy.

Senator Cardin is a leading advocate for the Chesapeake Bay, which is the economic, historical, and cultural heart of Maryland. Nationally, he is a champion of protecting our clean air and clean water. He has introduced legislation to restore the health of America's great water bodies and is the leading proponent of investing in improvements to America's aging water infrastructure system while preparing it for the impacts of climate change. His commitment to reduce pollution and protect our environment fuels his work to broaden investments in safe public transit, as well as walking and bike trails.

Serving as a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee during his first four years in the Senate, Senator Cardin also developed a reputation for defending civil rights at home and has sought to find a balance between protection of civil liberties and national security. He is the lead sponsor of legislation to prohibit racial and religious profiling by all levels of law enforcement, restore voting rights for former felons, and remove the deadline for ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment. He has been a proud cosponsor of the Respect for Marriage Act and the Employment Non-Discrimination Act. From 1987-2006, Senator Cardin represented Maryland’s Third Congressional District in the U.S. House of Representatives and served for 17 years on the Ways & Means Committee. He was a member of the Maryland House of Delegates from 1967-1986. During his time as Speaker, 1979-1986, he reformed Maryland’s property tax system, the school financing formula, and the ethical standards for elected officials.

Lieutenant Governor, Aruna Miller, Lieutenant Governor of Maryland

Aruna Miller is the 10th Lieutenant Governor of the state of Maryland. She is the second woman to serve as Lieutenant Governor and the first woman of color and immigrant elected to statewide office in Maryland. As a civil and transportation engineer in Montgomery County’s Department of Transportation, Miller worked to improve the safety of the public and alleviate traffic by creating equitable access to transportation. As a member of the Maryland House of Delegates, she worked with her constituents to create legislation to invest in STEM education, streamline the regulatory process for small businesses, and was a champion for working families, survivors of domestic abuse, and the environment. The Lieutenant Governor also chairs Maryland’s first Council on Interfaith Outreach, which convenes faith leaders from across religions and across the state of Maryland to bridge divides, increase religious tolerance, end hate, and better serve all communities. For over 30 years, she has lived in Montgomery County with her husband David, where they raised three daughters.

Secretary Paul Monteiro, Department of Service and Civic Innovation

Paul Monteiro is the son of immigrants and a proud product of the Prince George’s County Public Schools.

In April 2023, Governor Wes Moore nominated Paul as the state’s first Secretary of Service & Civic Innovation, and he was successfully confirmed by the Maryland Senate. In December 2021, President Joe Biden nominated Paul as the Director of the Department of Justice Community Relations Service (CRS), and the United States Senate confirmed his appointment on April 28, 2022. In this role, Paul oversaw CRS’s work supporting communities roiled by tensions based on race, religion, sexual orientation, and other jurisdictional conflicts or as they recovered from bias incidents and/or hate crimes. He previously served as Acting Director from December 2015 to January 2017. From 2017 - 2022, Paul worked at Howard University as Chief of Staff to President Wayne Frederick and as assistant vice president of external affairs. In 2014, President Barack Obama appointed Paul as national director of AmeriCorps Volunteers in Service to America (VISTA), the federal anti-poverty program established in 1965 as the domestic counterpart to the Peace Corps. After working on Senator Barack Obama’s 2008 presidential campaign as the deputy director for religious affairs, Paul joined the White House staff from 2009 – 2013 as an associate director in the Office of Public Engagement. In that role, he worked on President Obama’s Responsible Fatherhood and Healthy Families Initiative, the My Brother’s Keeper mentorship program for young men, and as a liaison to religious and secular belief communities as well as ethnic groups, including Arab American and Afghan American groups. Paul previously served as an at-large member of the Prince George’s County (Maryland) Public Schools Board of Education from 2018-2022. He holds a B.A. in history from the University of Maryland and a J.D. from the Howard University School of Law.

Vernon J. Hurte, Vice President for Student Affairs, Towson University

Dr. Vernon J. Hurte joined Towson University in 2020 as Vice President of Student Affairs. Prior to arriving at TU, he held leadership roles at Iowa State University and The College of William & Mary. In addition to his professional practice, he has consulted with several institutions on topics such as student success strategies and staff engagement. A leader in the field of student affairs, Dr. Hurte recently served on the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators (NASPA) Future of Student Affairs Task Force. Currently, he serves on the Governing Board of the Baltimore Collegetown Network and the Maryland Business Roundtable for Education (MBRT) Board of Directors.

Dr. Michelle Gourdine, Senior Vice President, CVS Health and Chief Medical Officer, CVS Caremark

Michelle Gourdine is the Senior Vice President of CVS Health and Chief Medical Officer for CVS Caremark. In this role, she upholds the clinical integrity of CVS Caremark – ensuring the quality and safety of their services and that their work is based on the continuous evaluation of scientific evidence. Michelle’s career in medicine and public health leadership span more than 30 years. Before joining CVS Health in December 2022, she was Senior Vice President, Population Health and Primary Care, and interim Chief Medical Officer at the University of Maryland Medical System. In this role, she worked across the University of Maryland Medical System’s 12 hospitals to lead the transformation of health care delivery, with a focus on quality, efficiency, and equity. A graduate of the Johns Hopkins School of Medicine, she completed residency in the Department of Pediatrics at the Johns Hopkins Hospital and practiced community-based pediatrics.

Michele W. Johnson, Director of Maryland 250 Commission

Michele Johnson joined Maryland state government in April 2023 after serving in senior leadership roles in small non-profits and as a solo national consultant and advocate. She was lead advocate for a successful first-in-the-nation bill in Maryland, and later helped other states pass similar legislation. Michele believes in community service, and has served as Chair of Congressman Elijah Cummings Youth Program, national policy committee member at the National Scholarship Providers Association and National College Attainment Network, member of a county Board of Zoning Appeals, and political candidate. She graduated from the University of Maryland and the University of Virginia, and lives in Talbot County.

The National Study of Learning, Voting, and Engagement (NSLVE), housed at the Tufts Tish College Institute for Democracy & Higher Education offers colleges and universities an opportunity to learn their student registration and voting rates. Since 2018, every one of the USM institutions participates in the NSLVE study of voting, and as a result, USM receives a combined report on the registration and voting results after each national election.

In December 2020, all USM institutions received their individual campus reports, and USM received the overview report with several key findings:

- Registration Rate: The average registration rate across 11 USM schools in 2020 was 82%.

- Number Voted: In 2020, 89,688 students voted. This resulted in a student level voting rate of 60%. This is an increase from the student level voting rate of 53% in 2016, when 79,818 students voted. These rates are calculated adding together all the voters across USM schools and dividing by all voting eligible students across USM. For comparison, in 2020, the national level student rate was 66%.

- Yield Rate: This calculates the rate at which registered students are engaged to vote. Focusing on this rate could help institutions innovate better to engage students beyond just the act of voter registration and help students carry that motivation to the ballot box. In 2020, the USM yield rate was 80%, up from 71% in 2016. In 2020, a total of 21,949 students registered but did not vote. Most importantly, this USM yield rate was the same as the 2020 national level yield rate of 80%.

We continue to participate in NSLVE, and will receive a report after the 2024 elections this year.

COMMITTEE: Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics and Student-athlete Health and Welfare

DATE OF COMMITTEE MEETING: June 12, 2023

SUMMARY: Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex in education programs receiving Federal financial assistance. Athletics are considered an integral part of an institution's education program and are therefore covered by this law. Failure to comply with the requirements of Title IX could result in administrative action revoking an institution's ability to receive federal funding, including student financial aid. Highlights of requirements for Title IX compliance follow.

Additionally, institutions with an intercollegiate athletics program are annually required to provide information to the Department of Education’s Equity in Athletics Data Analysis website. Institutions’ EADA reports for reporting year 2021-2022 follow. Summaries of Title IX participation compliance and Title IX sexual harassment training, processes, and procedures will be discussed.

COMMITTEE RECOMMENDATION: DATE: JUNE 12, 2023

Athletics and Title IX

Equity in Athletics Disclosure Act and Participation Compliance
The Equity in Athletics Disclosure Act (EADA) requires co-educational institutions of postsecondary education that participate in a Title IV (federal student financial assistance) program, and have an intercollegiate athletic program, to prepare an annual report to the Department of Education’s Office of Civil Rights (OCR) on athletic participation, staffing, and revenues and expenses, by men's and women's teams. The Department uses this information in preparing its required report to Congress on gender equity in intercollegiate athletics. The data offered in the institutions’ reports help assess Title IX compliance. Institutional data are in meeting materials and can be accessed at https://ope.ed.gov/athletics/#/.

There are three basic parts of Title IX as it applies to participation in athletics. An institution must meet all of the following requirements in order to be in compliance with Title IX:

1. Participation – Women and men shall be provided equitable opportunities to participate in sports. Title IX does not require institutions to offer identical sports but an equal opportunity to play;
2. Scholarships – Women and men student-athletes shall receive athletics scholarship dollars proportional to their participation; and
3. Other Benefits – Men and women student-athletes should be treated equally in provisions including, but not limited to: (a) equipment and supplies; (b) scheduling of games and practice times; (c) travel and daily allowance/per diem; (d) access to tutoring; (e) coaching, (f) locker rooms, practice, and competitive facilities; (g) medical and training facilities and services; (h) housing and dining facilities and services; (i) publicity and promotions; (j) support services; and (k) recruitment of student-athletes.

Additionally, a three-part test provides schools three different ways to comply. Schools only need to meet one of the three tests, and schools may change which test it meets from one year to the next:

1. Ensuring proportionality by providing intercollegiate or interscholastic participation opportunities for women and men at rates that are proportionate to their respective rates of enrollment; or
2. Continued program expansion for the underrepresented sex; or
3. Fully accommodate the underrepresented sex by offering every team for which there is sufficient interest and ability for a viable team, and sufficient competition in the geographic areas of competition.

Ultimately, Title IX compliance is assessed through a total program comparison. A university’s entire men’s program is compared to the entire women’s program. Men and women can participate in different sports according to their specific interests and abilities. It is permissible to have broad variations in the type and number of sports opportunities offered by gender, but the aforementioned standards help ensure the equal access and treatment required under Title IX.

Sex-Based Harassment
Title IX also requires schools to take steps to prevent and remedy two forms of sex-based harassment: sexual harassment (including sexual violence) and gender-based harassment. Sexual harassment is unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature. Gender-based harassment is unwelcome conduct based on a student’s sex - harassing conduct based on a student’s failure to conform to sex stereotypes. Sex-based harassment creates a hostile environment if the conduct is sufficiently serious that it denies or limits a student’s ability to participate in or benefit from the school’s program. Federal regulations and, subsequently, USM and institutions’ policies mandate the timing and steps institutions must take to investigate complaints and how to proceed if an investigation reveals that the harassment created a hostile environment. In short, institutions must take prompt and effective steps to end the harassment, eliminate the hostile environment, prevent its recurrence, and, as appropriate, remedy its effects. Today’s presentation will include summary information from the institutions.

TOPIC: Summary of student-athlete admission, graduation, and academic progress (Information)

COMMITTEE: Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics and Student-athlete Health and Welfare

DATE OF COMMITTEE MEETING: June 12, 2023

SUMMARY: Board of Regents Policy V-2.10 Policy on Intercollegiate Athletics details the Board of Regents’ values and expectations of institutions that operate intercollegiate athletics programs. One of the basic principles articulated is:

Student athletes are first and foremost students, and it is the expectation of the Board of Regents that their academic performance and progress will be comparable to that of non-athletes.

A considerable volume of detailed information on the academic progress, admission profiles and graduation rates for student-athletes is reviewed by System Office staff.

To ensure that publicly-presented information does not jeopardize Federal student privacy requirements, staff have summarized the information for ease of use by the Regents and the attached report details the results of the review.

COMMITTEE RECOMMENDATION: DATE: JUNE 12, 2023

BOARD ACTION: DATE:

FY 2023 Academic Summary Report
Board of Regents’ Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics
June 12, 2023

“Student athletes are first and foremost students, and it is the expectation of the Board of Regents that their academic performance and progress will be comparable to that of non-athletes.”

This report summarizes the student-athlete academic performance and progress compared to the non-athlete student peers for the University System of Maryland (USM) institutions with NCAA Intercollegiate Athletics programs. The following summary includes the synthesis for the academic measures requested by the Chancellor in Policy (V-2.10 – USM Policy on Intercollegiate Athletics) and includes comparisons of the preparedness of incoming student-athletes, their ongoing academic success, and their graduation rates. Finally, a summary of the Academic Progress Rates (APR) is included to ensure that minimum NCAA standards are being met at each institution.

Summary of Academic Preparedness by Institution:

Institutions reported the high school GPA and SAT (Standardized Tests) scores for student-athletes and the institutional first-time, full-time fall cohort of new students. It should be noted that admission policies have transitioned to test-optional at most institutions, so any SAT averages reported were a subset of the entire population. However, with few exceptions, USM institutions reported similar academic preparedness for student-athletes when compared to their peers (See Table 1).

The exceptions to the Board Policy requiring similar academic preparedness were few. UMCP (University of Maryland College Park) men student-athletes have lower high school GPA (3.57 vs 4.46) and SAT scores (1189 vs 1440) than their peers. UMCP women student-athletes have lower high school GPA (4.06 vs 4.49) and SAT scores (1271 vs 1394) than their peers.

Summary of Mid-Year Academic Performance

Following the fall semester, institutions reported the mid-year academic performance of all full-time undergraduate students. The average cumulative GPA, average fall credit hours attempted, average fall credit hours earned, percentage of students with cumulative GPA below 2.00, percentage of students earning fewer than 12.0 credits, and the percentage of students earning fewer than 6.0 credits were reported by the institutions.

Continuous academic achievement and progress towards degree attainment are essential for students to graduate, graduate on time, and remain academically eligible to compete in athletics. Student-athletes with a GPA below 2.00 jeopardize eligibility and retention, and student-athletes earning fewer credit hours may require student-athletes to complete more credits in the spring semester or register for summer courses to make sufficient progress toward degree completion.

With few exceptions, the trend for student-athletes is to have the same or higher cumulative GPA, have higher credit hour completion averages, have a lower percentage of students with cumulative GPA averages below 2.00, and a lower percentage of students completing fewer than 12.0 or 6.0 credit hours (See Table 2).
With only two exceptions, the data support the claim that the majority of student-athletes are succeeding at rates similar to, if not higher than, their peers. Student-athletes at UMCP are not performing at the same rates as their peers. When comparing across institutions, the UMCP peer GPA averages and credit hour completion were the highest in the USM, but the UMCP student-athlete average cumulative GPA and average fall credit hour completion were among the lower averages for student-athletes. Additionally, Salisbury University student-athletes had a higher percentage of students earning fewer than 12.0 credits (13% vs 7.5%) than their peers.

Summary of Academic Student Success

Graduation rates for first-time, full-time new undergraduates are measured across a 6-year timeframe. The USM institutions reported the regular admit graduation rates and percentage of undergraduates who left in good standing for the Fall 2016 first-time, full-time cohort and the subset of student-athletes within this cohort. Institutions provided these data for women and men as well as for regular admits and special admits (See Table 3).

There were a few general trends for the graduation rate data and the percentage of students who left in good standing. First, except for Towson, women graduated at higher rates than men, and this was true for both peer averages and student-athlete averages. Second, most student-athletes graduated at higher rates than non-athlete peers. The only exceptions were student-athletes at UMCP, men student-athletes at Frostburg State University (FSU), and women student-athletes at Towson.

The exceptions to the Board policy requiring similar academic achievement were few. First, the men student-athletes at UMCP graduated at lower rates than their peers (63.8% vs 87.5%), and the men student-athletes at FSU graduated at lower rates than their peers (34.9% vs 41.8%). The women student-athletes at UMCP also graduated at lower rates than their peers (75.3% vs 92.9%), and the women student-athletes at Towson graduated at lower rates than their peers (69.0% vs 73.4%). Although a small group, the special admits at Towson graduated at lower rates than their peers. At UMBC, only the special admit women student-athletes graduated at lower rates.

The NCAA GSR (Graduation Success Rates) and ASR (Academic Success Rates) reports data comparable to the graduation rate and left in good standing data discussed. Athletic departments will often point to this measure as a better indicator of student success. The GSR and ASR are reports that publish modified rates for student-athletes by including both the percentage of students who graduated and the percentage who left/transferred in good standing. This rate is higher than the federal graduation rate which does not include students who dropped out or transferred in good standing. Looking back to Table 3, if one combined both the graduation rates and students who left in good standing, the number will be inflated for the entire student body as well as the student-athletes. While the student-athlete graduation rates may be lower, the combined rate is often higher than the student body peer graduation rates because of the high percentage of student-athletes who leave in good standing.
The NCAA publishes an annual report to monitor academic eligibility and retention. High APR scores mean the sport is permitted to operate without penalties and is eligible for post-season competition. The APR scores are only based on scholarship athletes whereas the USM data previously discussed include all student-athletes. Per Policy (V-2.20 – USM Policy on Academic Achievement in Intercollegiate Athletics) all institutions met the multiyear APR benchmark of 930 except for Coppin State University (CSU) Men’s Basketball, University of Maryland Eastern Shore (UMES) Men’s Golf, and UMES Women’s Golf.

TOPIC: The Jordan McNair Safe and Fair Play Act Report (Information)

COMMITTEE: Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics and Student-Athlete Health and Welfare

DATE OF COMMITTEE MEETING: November 3, 2023

SUMMARY: The Jordan McNair Safe and Fair Play Act, adopted in the spring of 2021, established an annual requirement for the University System of Maryland to report on student athletes, including any policy changes related to the health and safety of student athletes at each institution.

In August 2023, System institutions with Intercollegiate Athletics were asked for an inventory of every policy and procedure that related to student-athlete safety, health, and wellness. Institutions were also asked to provide a link to or attachment of the policies/procedures and asked to note when the policies were established and if changes had been made since August 2022.

All institutions complied with this request. The information collected was compiled into a report that was submitted to the General Assembly by the October 1, 2023 deadline.

Dr. Zakiya Lee, Assistant Vice Chancellor and Chief of Staff for Academic and Student Affairs, will provide a summary of the report, which demonstrates the depth and breadth of campus policies related to the health and safety of student athletes.

The Jordan McNair Safe and Fair Play Act

University System of Maryland

Final
October 2023
The University System of Maryland’s Board of Regents Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics and Student-Athlete Health and Welfare submits the following report as mandated by The Jordan McNair Safe and Fair Play Act, which states, “The University System of Maryland Intercollegiate Athletics Workgroup shall submit a report to the General Assembly, in accordance with §2-1257 of the State Government Article, on student athletes in the University System of Maryland, including any student athlete policy changes at each institution related to the health and safety of student athletes.”

University System of Maryland and Oversight of Intercollegiate Athletics

The University System of Maryland (USM) has collaborated with and gathered information and data on the intercollegiate athletics programs at its institutions for many years with a policy on athletics oversight first adopted in 1990 and then further refined in 1991. In 2013, the Board of Regents established the Workgroup on Intercollegiate Athletics to formalize processes, procedures, and the oversight of the athletics programs. The Workgroup diligently worked reviewing and assessing the academics, health and wellness, Title IX compliance, and financial status of athletics programs. Institutional information was reviewed by and presented to the Workgroup and also reported up to the standing committees on Education Policy and Student Life and Finance, as appropriate. In 2020, the Board of Regents approved the dissolution of the aforementioned workgroup and the establishment of a more formal, robust, long-standing, public-facing entity – the Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics and Student-Athlete Health and Welfare. In April 2021, the charge of that committee (included as an appendix to this report) was approved and incorporated into the Bylaws of the USM Board of Regents. This charge was last reviewed and approved in November 2022.

The Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics and Student-Athlete Health and Welfare is charged with performing all necessary oversight of compliance with Board of Regents policy expectations, considering issues associated with intercollegiate athletics and student-athlete health and welfare concerns, and determining the need for further or amended Board of Regents policy requirements. This includes, but is not limited to: (1) reviewing presidential performance in managing institutional intercollegiate athletics, (2) monitoring developments in intercollegiate athletics nationally, (3) requesting information from the institutions on the health and welfare of athletes and academic support protocols provided to student-athletes; Title IX compliance and complaints; and institutions’ student-athletes academic progress and graduation success; and (4) analyzing financial status, commitments, and obligations. The Committee meets as needed but no fewer than three times each fiscal year.

University System of Maryland Board of Regents Policies on Intercollegiate Athletics
Following are the intercollegiate athletics-specific policies maintained by the University System of Maryland Board of Regents:

V-2.00 – Policy on Student Athletics (approved in January 1990) – This policy establishes that the responsibility for adopting rules for the administration of intercollegiate athletics is delegated to the President of each institution, subject to Board policies and to applicable Federal and State law and any governing athletic association’s rules.

V-2.10 – Policy on Intercollegiate Athletics (approved in April 1991; most recently amended in June 2023) – This policy establishes the general philosophy of and expectations surrounding ICA as well as describing institutions’ reporting and accountability requirements (including compliance with the Jordan McNair Act); academic, fiscal, and compliance responsibilities; ongoing reporting obligations; and the distribution and use of sensitive information. This policy also mandates that institutions with intercollegiate athletics program, “have in place procedures, internal and external, which provide careful and thorough scrutiny of the sports program and deliver required information to the president and, as appropriate, to the Chancellor and the Board of Regents.”

During the June 12, 2023 meeting of the Board’s Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics and Student-Athlete Health and Welfare, the committee voted to amend Policy V-2.10. The policy continues to require that institutions operate intercollegiate athletics programs in a fiscally responsible manner. The policy’s goal is for these programs to be operated on a self-supporting basis as set forth in guidelines provided by the Chancellor. However, the policy amendments will provide institutions with flexibility to achieve this goal over time, if necessary. The policy permits institutions to use revenues or resources other than those generated by the intercollegiate athletics program to support the program, if certain procedures are followed: (1) for use of other revenues of up to $1 million in a year, the president's approval must be documented and the Chancellor notified; (2) for amounts of $1 million up to $5 million in one year, the Chancellor’s review and approval is required. Institutions that cannot cover their expenses through program revenues and other approved sources of revenue shall develop, adopt and report to the Chancellor’s Office an operating plan to improve intercollegiate athletics program financial results. Finally, the policy amendments also provide that institutions may choose not to require intercollegiate athletics programs to make up internal accounting budget shortfalls. In such cases, the president must notify the Chancellor and, if the amount exceeds $5 million in one year, the Chancellor will notify the Board of Regents.
V-2.20 – Policy on Academic Achievement in Intercollegiate Athletics (approved October 2014) – This policy establishes the importance of successful academic achievement for student athletes and associated reporting requirements.

All Board of Regents ICA-related policies and the work of the former workgroup and current standing committee are based on the philosophy that student-athletes are, first and foremost students, and it is the expectation of the Board of Regents that student-athletes' academic performance and progress will be comparable to that of non-athletes. Management of the athletics programs, with focus on financial expectations as well as academic and health and wellness goals and expectations, are among those elements to be considered in the annual evaluations of presidential performance.

The July 2021 transition of the Workgroup on Intercollegiate Athletics to the Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics and Student-Athlete Health and Welfare and the June 2023 amendments to the Policy on Intercollegiate Athletics (V-2.10) are the most substantive, system-wide changes that have taken place in years. All policies undergo regular examination by the committee and/or USM staff. Changes will be reported in USM's subsequent submission(s) of the Jordan McNair Safe and Fair Play Act Report.

University System of Maryland’s Institutions’ and the System Office’s Compliance with the McNair Act Reporting Mandates

The McNair Act states, “The University System of Maryland Intercollegiate Athletics Workgroup shall submit a report to the General Assembly, in accordance with §2-1257 of the State Government Article, on student athletes in the University System of Maryland, including any student athlete policy changes at each institution related to the health and safety of student athletes.”

To satisfy this requirement, the staff to the Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics and Student-Athlete Health and Welfare asked the institutions with NCAA intercollegiate athletics to submit a report detailing their policies and procedures related to the safety, health, and wellness of student-athletes. The staff also requested links or hard copies of each policy or procedure, the date it was established, the date of last review, and a brief description of changes and motivating factors since August 2022. The reporting requirement from the General Assembly only asked for policy changes, but the Committee expanded the request to include procedures/guidelines, as much of the infrastructure designed to address student-athlete health and wellness is contained in procedures or protocols that are not always official policies.

Eight University System of Maryland institutions have intercollegiate athletics.

Bowie State University – Division II
Coppin State University – Division I
Frostburg State University – Division II
Salisbury University – Division III
Towson University – Division I
University of Maryland, Baltimore County – Division I
University of Maryland, College Park – Division I
University of Maryland Eastern Shore – Division I
Following is a chart of the policies and procedures related to the safety, health, and wellness of student-athletes for each USM institution with intercollegiate athletics and the University System of Maryland Board of Regents.

Finally, per Section 15-128 of the Jordan McNair Act, “An athletic program should adopt and implement: 1) guidelines to prevent, assess, and treat serious sports-related conditions, including: brain injury; heat illness; and rhabdomyolysis (rhabdo); 2) exercise and supervision guidelines for any student athlete who participates in an athletic program and is identified with potential life-threatening health conditions, including sickle cell trait, and asthma; and 3) return-to-play protocols for athletes who experience injury or illness during practice or play.

Our examination of the institutional polices noted above indicates that all institutions have protocols and guidelines relating to these conditions and illnesses.

The USM Board of Regents Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics and Student-Athlete Health and Welfare and associated USM Office staff will continue to work with our institutional partners to ensure the health, safety, and welfare of student-athletes is the top priority.

DRAFT

Minutes of the Public Session

Regent Fish welcomed those on the video and teleconference and called the meeting of the Finance Committee of the University System of Maryland Board of Regents to order in public session at 10:32 a.m.

Regents participating in the session included: Ms. Fish, Mr. Gonella, Ms. Gooden, Mr. Hasan, Ms. Helal, Mr. Pope, Mr. Rauch, Mr. Sibel, and Mr. Wood. Also participating were: Chancellor Perman, Ms. Herbst, Assistant Attorney General Bainbridge, Assistant Attorney General Palkovitz, Dr. Pines, Mr. Atkins, Mr. Mohammadi, Mr. Bitner, Mr. Colella, Mr. Danik, Ms. Dettloff, Mr. Donoway, Mr. Lockett, Ms. Lowe, Mr. Lowenthal, Mr. Oler, Mr. Keeney, Ms. Adkins, Ms. Petronka, Ms. Munn, Ms. Borgerding, Mr. Olen, Mr. Reuning, Ms. Corry, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Morris, Mr. Crawford, Mr. Borkowicz, Mr. Bass, Mr. Conway, Ms. Murphy, Mr. Sheetz, Mr. Snyder, Ms. Auburger, Mr. Beck, Ms. Denson, Mr. Eismeier, Mr. Hickey, Mr. Li, Mr. Muntz, Ms. Norris, Mr. Acton, Ms. Patterson, Ms. McMann, and other members of the USM community and the public.

1. University System of Maryland: Amendment to the Forty-Fourth Bond Resolution—Auxiliary Facility and Tuition Revenue Bonds (action)

Regent Fish summarized the first agenda item. Every June the Board reviews and approves a Bond Resolution that includes the auxiliary projects from the System Funded Capital Program and the academic projects included in the Governor’s CIP, as passed by the Maryland Legislature. She explained that there was a last-minute change made to the 2022 resolution to reflect the appropriate auxiliary project authorizations included in the System Funded Construction Program. In error, the total academic authorization was changed. The amendment will rectify that action. The academic project authorization will be updated to the amount of $25.3 million, authorized by the State. The amendment does not impact the total Bond Resolution authorization originally approved by the Board of Regents.

The Finance Committee recommended that the Board of Regents approve the Amendment to the Forty-Fourth Bond Resolution. (Regent Fish moved recommendation, seconded by Regent Pope; approved)

Vote Count = Yeas: 9  Nays: 0  Abstentions: 0
2. Bowie State University on behalf of the University System of Maryland and the Maryland Education Enterprise Consortium (MEEC): Modification to the IT Professional Consulting Services Master Contract (action)

Regent Fish stated that, in light of a conflict of interest, she would recuse herself from participating in both the discussion and voting on the agenda item. She asked Sr. Vice Chancellor Herbst to preside over the matter.

Sr. Vice Chancellor Herbst acknowledged Ms. Petronka and Ms. Munn from MEEC, Mr. Jost from BSU’s procurement office, and Mr. Hickey and Mr. Eismeier from the USM Office. Sr. Vice Chancellor Herbst took the opportunity to share an overview of the Maryland Education Enterprise Consortium, an entity hosted by the USM. MEEC membership includes more than 200 K-20 public, private, federal educational institutions and libraries in Maryland serving nearly 230,000 faculty and staff. The consortium leverages its membership’s size to negotiate favorable IT hardware, software, and services contracts. At the present time, MEEC has 16 agreements with approximately 100 vendors of software, hardware, and services. Members may purchase off of the contracts, which have established minimum discounts and maximum hourly rates. From there, MEEC members can further negotiate pricing. MEEC members throughout the State can access contracts with pre-established terms and conditions, which are vetted and approved by authorized legal counsel, thereby avoiding the need for recreating this process for every new procurement.

Sr. Vice Chancellor Herbst provided a comprehensive synopsis of the current request pertaining to the MEEC IT Professional Consulting Services contract. This agreement encompasses nearly 30 consulting firms, offering a wide array of technology implementation services such as system implementation, change management, program management, data analytics, and training. The request under consideration aims to amend the existing contract by increasing the not-to-exceed amount from $90 million to $140 million. The multi-award master contract has proven to be highly successful, serving as a vital conduit for essential IT professional consulting services to all MEEC members. During the discussion, Mr. Eismeier addressed inquiries regarding Minority Business Enterprise (MBE) participation. He highlighted efforts within the system institutions similar to the State's initiatives for engaging with MBEs and small businesses. These efforts include hosting conferences to facilitate introductions, educate stakeholders about initiatives and procurement processes, and foster participation. The overarching goal is to establish robust relationships and enhance participation in upcoming projects, particularly with several significant ERP initiatives on the horizon.

Regent Gooden underscored the critical importance of promptly addressing any instances of exceeding a contract’s spending ceiling. In light of this concern, she suggested a procedural change aimed at augmenting the existing system to ensure timely and comprehensive data collection on procurement contracts, encompassing costs and MBE participation. Additionally, she requested a review of the six-month output from the system.

The Finance Committee recommended that the Board of Regents approve Bowie State University’s request to increase the not-to-exceed amount of the MEEC master contract from $90 million to $140 million, as described in the agenda item.

(Regent Pope moved recommendation, seconded by Regent Gonella; approved)
Vote Count = Yeas: 8      Nays: 0      Abstentions: 1   (Regent Fish recused herself)
3. FY 2023 Audited Financial Statements and USM Financial Planning (information)

Regent Fish introduced the agenda item concerning the System's annual audit of its financial statements for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2023. She outlined that the financial affairs team would present an overview of the audited financial statements, highlighting key insights. Subsequently, taking the committee members through a discussion covering financial planning within the System, the current state of USM's financial strength, and insights on how the rating agencies perceive and evaluate the System's financial standing.

Sr. Vice Chancellor Herbst stated that the System is in bond rating season, preparing to sell its next round of bonds, and currently undergoing its annual reviews with each of the three major rating agencies. The System’s financial statements are important to investors, the financial community, and potential partners, externally. They are also included in the state’s audited financial statements. She emphasized that the audited financial statements are issued at the System level, as is the bond rating; debt is also issued at the System level. Prior to commencing the presentation, Sr. Vice Chancellor Herbst provided the fiscal year 2023 financial results. It was noted that the System’s unrestricted reserves increased $268 million.

She proceeded to acknowledge the presence of Ms. Denson, associate vice chancellor financial affairs; Mr. Acton, director of financial reporting and comptroller; and Ms. Norris, director financial planning and analysis. Mr. Acton delved into the core insights gathered from the audited financial statements, providing a detailed walkthrough of the financial charts included in the meeting materials. Both Mr. Acton and Ms. Norris then led a comprehensive presentation, utilizing a series of slides to cover various aspects including the System’s financial statements, critical inputs and processes contributing to financial health, key financial planning metrics, debt management strategies, as well as insights into bond issuances and ratings. The presentation is available (https://www.usmd.edu/regents/agendas/).

The Finance Committee received the item for information purposes.

4. University System of Maryland: FY 2025 Operating Budget Update (information)

Regent Fish introduced the informational update on the operating budget. She turned to Sr. Vice Chancellor Herbst, who conveyed that the Governor has recently issued the budget, which is now under review by the legislature. Additionally, she emphasized that the State demonstrates strong support for higher education. Sr. Vice Chancellor Herbst reviewed highlights of the FY 2025 Governor’s Allowance. The USM budget totals $7.3 billion in current unrestricted and restricted funds. The total state support is $2.2 billion, which represents a $45.8 million decrease in state funding. She reported that the reductions stem from adjusting vacancy rates for positions, and their effects will differ across the institutions. Sr. Vice Chancellor Herbst further noted that the budget figure does not encompass the proposed FY 2025 salary increases of $147.1 million, which are part of the DBM personnel budget.

Sr. Vice Chancellor Herbst outlined that tuition increases are anticipated to be no more than 2% for resident undergraduate students and 5% for nonresident undergraduate students. She highlighted the upcoming process where universities will propose tuition rates in the spring, subject to review and approval by the Board. Additionally, she emphasized that funding for the USM remains under deliberation by the Maryland Legislature, and efforts persist within the USM community to engage with elected officials throughout the legislative session.

The Finance Committee received the item for information purposes.
5. University System of Maryland: FY 2025 Capital Budget Update (information)

Sr. Vice Chancellor Herbst reported on the Governor’s FY 2025-2029 Capital Improvement Program, amounting to $945 million, which aligned closely with expectations. The proposed budget is poised to address several critical facilities requirements across the System. Most of the ongoing projects were fully funded, with adjustments made to accommodate cash flow expectations. Notable advancements include the UMB Institute for Health Computing in North Bethesda and the Dental Ambulatory Surgery Center. Additionally, allocations were made to bolster existing projects such as UMES’ campus flood mitigation and Salisbury’s Blackwell Hall renovation.

The Finance Committee received the item for information purposes.

Regent Fish acknowledged the presence of two representatives from the design/construction service centers, Mr. Olen, executive director of planning & construction at the University of Maryland, College Park, and Ms. Borgerding, assistant vice president of facilities & operations at the University of Maryland, Baltimore, who joined Mr. Beck. Regent Fish then outlined that the Office of Capital Planning compiles and analyzes an informational status report detailing major projects underway across the System, encompassing contract awards, completions, and comprehensive project schedules. The report covers activity spanning the twelve-month period from December 1, 2022, to November 30, 2023. Responding to a query from Regent Wood, Mr. Beck confirmed that many projects listed are indeed facilities renewal projects that are funded through academic revenue bonds, state general obligation bonds, or PAYGO. These projects align with Board policy, and as facilities renewal projects contribute toward an institution’s 2% FR goal.

The Finance Committee received the report for information purposes.

7. Convening Closed Session

Regent Fish read the Convene to Close Statement.

“The Open Meetings Act permits public bodies to close their meetings to the public in circumstances outlined in §3-305 of the Act and to carry out administrative functions exempted by §3-103 of the Act. The Committee on Finance will now vote to reconvene in closed session. The agenda for the public meeting today includes a written statement with a citation of the legal authority and reasons for closing the meeting and a listing of the topics to be discussed. The statement has been provided to the regents and it is posted on the USM’s website.”

The Chancellor recommended that the Committee on Finance vote to reconvene in closed session.

(Regent Fish moved recommendation, seconded by Regent Gonella; approved)

SUMMARY: The Board of Regents previously adopted the Forty-Fourth Bond Resolution on June 17, 2022, authorizing the issuance of University System of Maryland Auxiliary Facility and Tuition Revenue Bonds in the amount of $50,896,000. The funding was allocated between Auxiliary projects approved by the Board of Regents, and Academic projects authorized by the State Legislature.

The proposed amendment to the Forty-Fourth Resolution corrects an error in the allocation between Academic and Auxiliary projects. The total authorized amount will remain unchanged at $50,896,000. The original resolution specified that $14,708,000 would be used on Facilities Renewal Projects authorized in the Governor’s Capital Improvement Plan; this amendment will adjust that amount to the $25,308,000 that was included in the CIP and approved by the legislature as part of Senate Bill 1007 in the 2022 Legislative Session.

BOND COUNSEL: Miles & Stockbridge P.C.

ALTERNATIVE(S): The Facilities Renewal projects included in this bill may be delayed without this authorization.

FISCAL IMPACT: There is no fiscal impact. The total bond authorization will be unchanged.

CHANCELLOR’S RECOMMENDATION: That the Finance Committee recommend that the Board of Regents approve the Amendment to the Forty-Fourth Bond Resolution.

COMMITTEE RECOMMENDATION: RECOMMEND APPROVAL DATE: 1/24/24

TOPIC: Bowie State University on behalf of the University System of Maryland and the Maryland Education Enterprise Consortium (MEEC): Modification to the IT Professional Consulting Services Master Contract

COMMITTEE: Finance

DATE OF COMMITTEE MEETING: January 24, 2024

SUMMARY: This master IT consulting and technical services contract was approved by the Board of Regents in June 2016, with a not-to-exceed amount of $90 million. This is a multiple-award master contract with 27 vendors that provide services to MEEC’s 200+ member institutions.

Originally procured and hosted by UMUC (now UMGC), Bowie State University (BSU) and its Director of Procurement assumed responsibility as the contract host in July 2016. BSU requests approval of a contract modification to increase the not-to-exceed amount from $90 million to $140 million. The contract has a nine-year term that expires on June 30, 2025.

MEEC recently learned that the USM contract awards had exceeded the not-to-exceed amount by $5.4 million after collecting the vendors’ 2022-2023 sales reports. Once the USM Office was alerted to this situation, the USM institutions were immediately instructed to cease issuance of any new task orders on the contract until such time that a modification could be approved by both the Board of Regents and the Board of Public Works.

Prior to 2022, the USM sales averaged $11 million per year. However, in July 2022 there was a dramatic increase in the spending rate due to collaborative projects underway to replace core finance, HR, and other enterprise systems by USM institutions.

The source of funds for purchases under the agreements come from the budgets of the MEEC member institutions. This master contract did not have an overall MBE goal; however, MBE goals may be established on a task order basis. Three of the 27 firms are certified Minority Business Enterprises. The USM institutions achieved an MBE participation of 2.34%; however, the overall MBE participation that includes both USM and non-USM institutions achieved 3.5%.

This request for approval is made pursuant to University System of Maryland Board of Regents Policy on Approval of Procurement Contracts, Section VIII-3.10 for procurements exceeding $5 million. This contract modification will also require the approval of the Board of Public Works.

ALTERNATIVE: If the contract modification is not approved, the MEEC USM institutions will no longer be able to use the IT Professional Consulting Services agreements. The USM institutions would be required to establish separate contracts for their IT professional consulting needs or will need to seek out other collaborative procurement arrangements. This may result in the USM institutions paying higher fees and will delay their projects due to the time required to establish new contracts. The MEEC agreement leverages the collective volume and buying power of all the MEEC member institutions which produces savings and efficiencies.

FISCAL IMPACT: It is difficult to predict the spend on a cooperative agreement with 27 vendors that may be used by USM institutions, in addition to other MEEC members, over a nine-year term. The IT Professional Consulting Services master agreement provides a positive fiscal impact to the MEEC member institutions, which includes education entities in Maryland from pre-school through graduate school and beyond. This master contract was established under a competitive RFP process and the vendors were thoroughly vetted. The contract provides users with discounted maximum hourly consulting rates.

CHANCELLOR’S RECOMMENDATION: That the Finance Committee recommend that the Board of Regents approve Bowie State University’s request to increase the not-to-exceed amount of this MEEC master contract from $90 million to $140 million, as described above.

MEEC MOD TO IT CONSULT CONTRACT
TOPIC: FY 2023 Audited Financial Statements and USM Financial Planning

COMMITTEE: Finance

DATE OF COMMITTEE MEETING: January 24, 2024

SUMMARY: This item is a brief review of the audited University System of Maryland basic financial statements for the year ended June 30, 2023, for which CliftonLarsonAllen LLP (CLA)—the USM’s independent auditors—provided an unqualified opinion.

A set of key points to be taken from the System’s financial statements appears on the first page of the attached materials. The statement of net position (balance sheet), along with the statement of revenues, expenses, and changes in net position follows on pages two and three.

The “Financial Snapshot” on page four summarizes the System’s key financial health ratio used by rating agencies—available resources to debt outstanding—using the figures reflected in the financial statements, to provide a comparison between June 30, 2023 and 2022. The lower part of the Financial Snapshot displays adjustments to the publicly reported balances for Board-approved claims and authorizations not yet expended or reflected in the financial statements to arrive at a “true” financial health ratio for internal management and decision-making purposes.

A discussion, aided by a set of presentation slides, about the System’s approach to financial planning will be used to complement the review of the audited financial statements.

NOTE: The University System of Maryland Financial Statements and Supplemental Schedules for FY 2023 can be viewed online at http://www.usmd.edu/usm/adminfinance/finafair/fsssch.html

Key points associated with FY 2023 financial statements:

1. The USM Annual Financial Statements for the year ended June 30, 2023 reports an increase of unrestricted net position of $268M compared to an increase of $98M reported as of June 30, 2022.

2. The financials statements reflect the implementation of GASB Statement 96, Subscription-Based Information Technology Arrangements. Included in the financial statements is $43M in Subscription-based obligations.

3. During FY20 and FY21, the Institutions were awarded $574M in Higher Education Emergency Relief Funds to assist the institutions and students through the pandemic. Through June 30, 2023, the institutions had expended $553M of these funds. BSU and UMES have unspent HEERF Funds as of June 30, 2023. They have until June 2024 to expend the remaining funds.

4. The audited financial statements include the basic financial statements of the University System of Maryland, but also affiliated, separately governed organizations that are recognized as affiliated entities, or “component units.” Unrestricted net position of position attributable to component units is $374M as of June 30, 2023, compared to $205M as of June 30, 2022.

   o The June 30, 2023 financial statements include three previously unreported component units. These three legally separate entities are University of Maryland Pediatrics, PA, University of Maryland Orthopaedics, PA, and University of Maryland Faculty Physicians, Inc. Each of these component units are associated with the University of Maryland, Baltimore School of Medicine.

5. The ‘Financial Snapshot’ is used to present the financial health of the System, using the key ratio used by the rating agencies. This ratio, which measures Balance Sheet strength, of ‘available resources’ (defined as USM unrestricted net position + unfunded pension amounts + accrued leave liability + affiliated foundation unrestricted net assets) to debt outstanding, including lease obligations, is 252% at June 30, 2023 compared to 203% at June 30, 2022.

   Adjusting for Board-approved commitments and authorizations to spend or borrow not yet reflected in the financial statements, resulted in an increase in overall ‘true’ financial standing, from 149% in FY22 to 186% in FY23. This ‘adjusted’ financial strength ratio is the basis of evaluation as described in the current Board of Regents Policy on Debt Management (VIII-12.00), with the policy requiring that new authorizations and commitments be controlled in such a manner that the ratio of available resources to debt outstanding not fall below a 90% ratio.

When the analysis is further updated to include deferred service obligations (the System’s housing public private partnerships (P3s)) as debt outstanding and to reflect the impact of pending projects, the ratio of available resources to debt outstanding for FY23 is 120% compared to 103% in FY22.

System Financial Management

Institutional leadership:
• Operating budget and capital spending under $1M – institution fund balance goal requires saving $1 out of every $100 spent

Chancellor and Board of Regents discipline:
• Capital spending over $1M – spending progress tracked, considered outside of institution fund balance goals
  • Bond authorizations approvals based on institution and USM affordability
  • The fund balance goal is set annually to maintain ratio of reserves to debt

USM financial planning annually takes into consideration externalities:
  ▪ Pension liability
  ▪ Investment returns
  ▪ Pandemic or other crisis
  ▪ Fund balance reversions

USM Bond Ratings

- Moody’s Aa1 (since September 2010)
- S&P AA+ (since June 2008)
- Fitch AA+ (since December 2010)

Implications for USM-wide Financial Management:
1. Lower interest rates
2. Access to refinancings of previously issued debt
3. Partnership opportunities associated with credit strength
4. Requires financial strength to be maintained (lower borrowing)

The Rating Agency Evaluation

Required to sell USM Bonds

Rating agency evaluation takes into consideration:
- Financial statement results
- Financial plans
- Public-private partnership projects retained risk
- Quality of leadership and decision-making

Better rating = lower borrowing costs + enhanced fiscal discipline

USM BOR debt policy designed to support financial health
Bond Issuance Practices

• Target annual bond issuance
  ▪ project authorization is done through System-funded Capital Program and Capital Improvement Plan budget processes

• Level debt service to provide budgetary predictability

• 3% to 5% coupon rates against a 3% to 4% true interest cost yields bond premiums (cash proceeds in excess of ‘par’ value of debt)

• 10-, 20- and 30-year term borrowings to match project lives

• Auxiliary projects pay proportionate amount of debt service

• Academic projects debt service paid from USM-wide pool

TOPIC: University System of Maryland: FY 2025 Capital Budget Update

COMMITTEE: Finance Committee

DATE OF COMMITTEE MEETING: January 24, 2024

SUMMARY: A brief update will be provided on the current status of the USM capital budget as presented in the FY 2025 Governor’s Budget, released on January 17. The Governor’s proposed FY25-29 CIP totals $945 million. The budget proposes a level of funding that is similar to recent (especially pre-COVID) years and will help address a number of critical needs.

The Board’s ”base request” of $1.16 billion over five years contained several embedded supplemental requests, including those preauthorized by the Maryland General Assembly. The Board also added a list of “next tier” supplemental requests. Many of the ongoing projects, 20 of 30 requests, were funded with some adjustments for construction cash flow expectations. Requests for additional capital facilities renewal, UMCP infrastructure programs, and a new public health building were not supported in the budget.

The Proposed CIP enhances budgets for two ongoing projects:

- UMES Campus Flood Mitigation Project
- SU Blackwell Hall Renovation (for construction costs and sustainability components)

Planning is added for seven new projects in FY28 and FY29:

- UMCP Benjamin Building Addition and Renovation
- TU New Student Services Building
- UMES New School of Pharmacy and Health Professions, Phase II
- FSU Cordts Physical Education Center Renovation
- UBalt Academic Center Renewal and Replacement
- SU New College of Health and Human Services
- UMBC New Student Services Building

Planning funds in the last years of this CIP will generate an estimated $1 billion in needed funds for construction and equipment over the three years following (FY30-32).

NOTES

1. Changes are due to project cash flow projections: will confirm cash flow needs with campus/Service Center.
2. Advanced as preauthorized by General Assembly
3. Phased project: Deferral due to available funds from prior authorizations. Will confirm cash flow needs with campus.
4. Additional $3.2M in NBF included in the new CIP ($5M to $8.2M).
5. FY27 amount was a supplemental request; Governor funded project for the FY24-28 CIP (without FY27 amount). FY27 ARB amount ($5M) went to UMCP Health & Human Services Complex
6. Funding was consistent with FY24-28 CIP; was not advanced as requested.
7. The Hornbake project was included in the final year of the FY24-28 CIP. The Institution asked to swap for a new School of Public Health. The Governor did not fund either. Instead, a "next tier" project (Benjamin Renovation) was added.
8. UMES requested additional funding for this critical climate resilience project (as shown) to enhance flood proofing protection for another campus building. The Governor agreed to do so.
9. Project was a "Supplemental" or "Next Tier" supplemental request by the Board. The Governor added this to the CIP.
10. UMGC had received planning funds from the General Assembly; Board requested (supplemental) a renovation project. The Governor added it in FY29.
11. Next Tier supplemental added by Governor with caveat that campus use their own funding for the initial planning phase.
12. USM had requested a GO Bond enhancement of $15M each year for the Capital FR program. The Governor added it for FY2029 only.

TOPIC: University System of Maryland: Review of Capital Improvement Projects

COMMITTEE: Finance

DATE OF COMMITTEE MEETING: January 24, 2024

SUMMARY: This report provides information on the status of capital improvement projects system-wide. Included are contract awards, completions, and detailed project schedules. The attached report reflects activity for the twelve-month period starting December 1, 2022, and ending November 30, 2023. The attached also includes a summary sheet highlighting key facilities milestones for the same time period.

COMMITTEE RECOMMENDATION: REPORT RECEIVED FOR INFORMATION DATE: 1/24/24

BOARD ACTION:

SUBMITTED BY: Ellen Herbst (301) 445-1923
SUMMARY: USM PROJECT STATUS REPORT ON MAJOR CONSTRUCTION PROJECTS
AS OF NOVEMBER 30, 2023

This report provides information on major ($1M or larger) capital projects System-wide, excluding maintenance and energy performance contracts. Projects are funded through a variety of sources: State capital and operating funds, including facilities renewal; internal funding through the System Funded Construction Program (SFCP); private funds; and federal grants. This report is a summary of contract awards, project completions and project schedules for the twelve-month period beginning December 1, 2022 and ending November 30, 2023.

CAMPUS FACILITIES HIGHLIGHTS:

At any given time, there are as many as $2.5 to $3 billion worth of projects in design or construction System-wide. National estimating standards demonstrate that capital investment by the State directly supports over 3,800 full-time jobs in the Maryland economy. From concept and budget through ribbon cutting, the goal of the USM Capital Program is to provide the most advanced, effective facilities and deliver them in the most efficient, cost-effective way.

It is important to add that, over the last decade or so, more than 80 USM projects have been certified by the US Green Building Council as LEED "Silver" or "Gold" (or higher). During the same timeframe, institutions have made significant progress toward reductions in energy use and have logged nearly a 40% reduction in greenhouse gas emissions. New project highlights for 2023 include:

- A new replacement building for the University of Maryland, Baltimore School of Social Work.
- Renovation of the Adelphi Building at the University of Maryland Global Campus.

Completed highlights include:

- The completion of major conversion of, and addition to the UMCP Cole Field House complex.
- A new Education & Health Sciences Center at Frostburg State University.
- The renovation of, and addition to, the Student Union Building at Towson University.

ONGOING PROJECTS:

As of November 30, 2023, there are a total of 109 major projects System-wide either pending design, or in design or construction, that are managed by the service centers or delegated to the institutions. The attached information includes schedules and project data for ongoing activities, including the following new projects. A list of completed or cancelled projects (from the last report) is also added below.

Rationale

The University System of Maryland maintains a central Internal Audit Office that independently appraises the System's activities to assist the Board of Regents and its Audit Committee in fulfilling the Board's fiduciary responsibilities. Internal Audit primarily functions to help managers discharge their responsibilities effectively, efficiently, and economically.

Internal auditing is an independent, objective assurance and consulting activity designed to add value and improved an organization’s operations. It helps an organization accomplish its objectives by bringing a systematic, disciplined approach to evaluate and improve the effectiveness of risk management, control, and governance processes.

To that end, the Internal Audit staff reviews financial and operating activities, analyzes internal control structures and procedures, and recommends corrective measures to both administrators and operating managers. Internal Audit functions as a member of the System's management team, but responsibility for correcting deficiencies rests with the responsible administrators.

Policy

The function, which is part of the University of Maryland System, reports to and is responsible to the Board of Regents Audit Committee. The Audit Committee has authority for hiring and terminating the Director of Internal Audit; determining appropriate compensation; and performing annual performance reviews. For administrative purposes, the Internal Audit Office reports to the Chancellor. Administratively, the Chancellor will work with the Director of Internal Audit to ensure that the Internal Audit Office maintains a professional level of independence, and that the internal audit function has adequate resources to accomplish its mission.

In carrying out its mission, the Internal Audit Office will have full, free, and unrestricted access to all System activities, including records, reports, property, and personnel. In addition, the Director of Internal Audit will have direct access to the Audit Committee, including meeting privately at least annually.

The Office of Internal Audit is authorized, but not limited, to perform the following engagements:

- Financial Audits
- Operational Audits
- Compliance Audits
- Investigative Audits
- Follow-up Audits
- Information Systems Audits
- Cyber Security Audits
- Internal Control Reviews
- Consulting Services

Internal Audit will be responsive and responsible to administrators and managers at all levels in the System. Similarly, each President and unit Director will ensure the cooperation of their administrators and managers throughout the internal audit process.

Each President is responsible for submitting a written response to each audit report.
Consulting services are advisory in nature and are generally performed at the specific request of management. The nature and scope of the consulting engagement are subject to agreement with management. Consulting services generally involve two parties: (1) the internal auditor and (2) the person or group seeking and receiving the advice – management. When performing consulting services, the internal auditor should maintain objectivity and not assume management responsibility

TOPIC: FAFSA Update

COMMITTEE: Committee of the Whole

DATE OF MEETING: February 16, 2024

SUMMARY: The Free Application for Federal Student Aid, or FAFSA, process was changed this year, with the updated form opening in December 2023, more than two months later than it usually opens. The release of the form has not been smooth, with many issues remaining unresolved. The Education Department also announced a delay in universities receiving the applications due to updating the financial aid tables.

This creates many issues for universities both in Maryland and nationwide that could have a negative impact on fall enrollments.

Senior Vice Chancellor Alison Wrynn will provide an update on the FAFSA and the impacts on the USM campuses.

FAFSA

As you are aware the Free Application for Federal Student Aid, or FAFSA, process was changed this year. These changes, which were designed to “simplify” the process, make the online form shorter and easier for families to complete. Over time, it is expected that more people will be able to successfully apply for federal financial aid.

Some of the changes include:

- The new FAFSA will automatically retrieve most federal tax return data directly from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).
- Parents who don't have a social security number can create an FSA ID.
- The new FAFSA will calculate a Student Aid Index (SAI) value for each student, and we will use it to determine eligibility for most need-based aid programs. (The SAI is replacing the Expected Family Contribution (EFC) value from the old FAFSA.)
- They also revised the formula that calculates the SAI values. Most students will have similar results from the new formula, but some students will have higher or lower financial need.

The new online FAFSA opened in late December 2023, more than two months later than the FAFSA usually opens. This schedule was already presenting challenges to our universities, which typically begin offering aid packages beginning in late January based on information received based on the FAFSA.

In its latest statement, the department said 3.1 million FAFSA forms have been successfully submitted since the redesigned application went live.

Still, the release has not been smooth. The number of “open issues” on the FAFSA Issue Alerts webpage dwarfs the number of “resolved issues”. The open problems include issues that need technical corrections, such as the inability of students whose parents may lack Social Security numbers to apply, as well as fundamental issues related to data collection, including an error that involved a failure to adjust financial aid tables for inflation.

On January 30, 2024, the Education Department announced that U.S. colleges and universities will not receive students' applications for financial aid until at least early March. The delay is a result, in large measure, tied to a decision to update the financial aid tables to account for inflation and thereby increase aid for many people.

James Kvaal, Undersecretary of Education, said in a recent statement that:

“The Better FAFSA makes it as simple and easy as possible for families to get help paying for college, and updating our tables will help even more students get the help they need... updating our calculations will help students qualify for as much financial aid as possible.”
The education department will send about 50 federal student aid officials to colleges and universities throughout the nation to help “prepare and process” students’ financial aid forms. Additionally, Senior Education Department officials have emphasized that lower-resourced campuses will be prioritized, including historically Black colleges and universities and tribal colleges. Indeed, this week, USDE sponsored webinars for continuing and prospective HBCU students and families. The plan also includes $50 million in federal funding for nonprofit organizations that focus on financial aid support. The department will also release test records for campuses to model.

This is a nationwide problem (https://edsource.org/updates/uc-and-cal-state-extend-deadlines-for-intent-to-register-due-to-fafsa-delays) that could have negative impacts on fall enrollments. Campuses will need to rapidly package financial aid offers and students will need to make decisions on where to attend very quickly. There are also impacts that cascade from this delay—including deadlines for housing deposits and scheduling of summer new-student orientation—and our campuses are working across campus to ensure a smooth process for our students.

USM campuses have been working diligently over the past year to communicate with prospective and returning students about the changes to FAFSA; they will continue to do so. Enrollment Management leads meet monthly, and Financial Aid leaders meet bi-weekly. They share promising practices and information and support one another.

The Office of Student Financial Assistance (OSFA) at the Maryland Higher Education Commission (MHEC) provides information on a number of state grants and scholarships. Yesterday MHEC hosted its monthly Financial Aid Advisory Council, which includes some USM campus representatives. MHEC is striving to adjust its work based on the abbreviated timeline.

We will continue to monitor the situation and provide updates as needed.
